

QUESTION LEAK

Biman sacks five arrested staffers

Another employee held

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Biman Bangladesh Airlines has sacked five of its staffers for their alleged involvement in leaking questions for the airline's recruitment examination.

A letter, signed by Biman Managing Director and CEO Zahid Hossain, was issued in this regard on Saturday, saying the order will be effective immediately.

In the order, the national airline said it has sacked motor transport operators Jahangir Alam, Mahfuz Alam Bhuiyan and Enamul Haque, and office assistants Awlad Hossain and Harun-ur-Rashid for "breaching clause 12" of their employment contract.

Meanwhile, police yesterday arrested another Biman employee over his alleged involvement in the leak.

Detective Branch (DB) of Dhaka Metropolitan Police (DMP) arrested Md Zahid, whose designation could not be confirmed immediately.

Earlier on Friday, DB arrested the five sacked junior staffers of the national flag carrier over the leak.

DB also seized soft and hard copies of the questions, bank cheques, stamped documents, four diaries, admit cards of examinees, mobile phones and cash during the drive.

The written examination for 10 posts at Biman was postponed on Friday due to the leak. The exam was scheduled to take place from 3:00pm to 4:00pm on that day.

Authorities postponed the exam an hour before it was scheduled to start.

Biman formed an enquiry committee on Friday to investigate the incident.

Led by Chief Financial Officer Md Naoshad, the committee was asked to submit its report within five days.

Meanwhile, DMP officials said they are trying to identify the masterminds behind the leak.

DB on Saturday said a syndicate of Biman involved in leak took around Tk 2 to 7 lakh from the examinees in exchange for the questions.

The members of this syndicate were also involved in leaking questions of different recruitment examinations of the national flag carrier earlier.

DB came to know this information by interrogating the five arrested Biman employees.

The DB officials said as per the plan, the arrested staffers of Biman leaked the questions the day before the recruitment exam.

'Will oust Quader, Chunnu from JP'

Says lawmaker Ranga; GM Quader claims Ranga is not in JP

RASHIDUL HASAN

The rift between Jatiya Party chief patron Raushan Ershad and chairman GM Quader took a new turn yesterday.

The two sides observed the party's "Upazila Day" separately. During a discussion organised by the pro-Raushan group on the occasion, opposition chief whip and lawmaker Mashru Rahman Ranga vowed to oust Quader and JP Secretary General Mujibul Haque Chunnu from the party for going against Raushan.

Ranga also announced to take over the party chairman's Banani office and the party headquarters in the capital's Kakrail.

Many recently-sacked JP leaders and activists -- who are loyal to Raushan -- were present at the programme held at the Jatiya Press Club, chanting anti-Quader slogans.

On September 14, JP Chairman GM Quader ousted Ranga from all positions, including the post of presidium member of JP, for siding with Raushan Ershad, also the leader of the opposition in parliament.

Three days later, on September 17, Quader also relieved Ziaul Haque Mridha from all positions of JP on the same grounds.

Quader took the decision unilaterally, exercising his special power bestowed upon him as per the party's charter.

Ranga yesterday came down heavily on Quader, saying he abused the special power to sack the members.

"I've been involved with Jatiya Party for the last 28 years. I gave half of my life to the party. Yet, I was sacked all of a sudden," said Ranga.

Ranga claimed that GM Quader is seeking money from the party's leaders in exchange for nominations in the next election. "It seems Jatiya Party has now become a Jatiyatabdhi Business Party."

Legal income Tk 52 lakh, flat worth Tk 3.09cr

DIG of prisons sentenced to five years in jail

COURT CORRESPONDENT

As a government servant, the suspended deputy inspector general (DIG) of prisons -- Bazlur Rashid -- earned only Tk 52 lakh legally during his service between 1993 and 2018.

He had no inherited property.

However, he purchased a flat worth Tk 3.09 crore and gave the payment in cash within just two months. The money was beyond his known income sources.

Judge Md Iqbal Hossain of the Special Judge's Court-5 of Dhaka made the observations yesterday while sentencing Bazlur to five years in jail in a graft case.

He was also fined Tk 5 lakh, in default of which he will have to serve six months more in jail.

Bazlur, who would withdraw a fixed salary, acquired huge assets worth Tk 3.14 crore, which is quite inconsistent with his known sources of income.

Earlier, Partha Gopal Banik, a suspended deputy inspector general (prisons) of Sylhet division, was sentenced to eight years' imprisonment in a graft case.

his illegal assets.

According to the judgement, Bazlur joined the government service in 1993. And till 2018, he legally earned Tk 52.35 lakh and spent Tk 22.05 lakh as family expense and other purposes.

After delivering the verdict, the court cancelled his bail and sent him to jail. ACC arrested Bazlur in the case filed with ACC's Integrated District Office-1

Bilateral agreements the way to go

Say speakers at event on migrant women's rights

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

The government needs to sign bilateral agreements with host countries to ensure better protection of Bangladeshi female migrant workers.

It needs to make sure that no female migrant faces exploitation or abuse in host countries.

Speakers made these comments at a discussion yesterday on "Media Advocacy for the Rights of Women Migrants" at the capital's Jatiya Press Club.

The event was organised by Centre for Women and Children Studies (CWCS), supported by Manusher Jonno Foundation (MJF).
