Finally, a contractor
BR appoints firm four months after project deadline

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Bangladesh Railway (BR) finally appointed a contractor to carry out preparatory work for a project to build a workshop for maintaining railway carriages and wagons, four months after the project's original deadline expired.

BR took the said project in February 2020. The delay in appointing the contractor led the authorities to extend the deadline up to June 2024 from its original deadline of June 2022.

This means that the 1.5-year project will now take at least 3.5 years.

The Tk 30.05-crore project was supposed to be completed yet. Yesterday, BR appointed a French-Bangladeshi joint venture firm to carry out the feasibility study and prepare a detailed design for the workshop in Rajbari.

Under the contract, the firm will get 16 months to complete the work at a cost of Tk 26.98 crore.

The companies are Systra SA of France and Development Design Consultants Ltd of Bangladesh.

Project Director Kudrot E-Khuda and Systra (South Asia) Managing Director Hari Somalraju signed the contract on behalf of their organisations at Rail Bhaban in the presence of Railways Minister Nurul Islam Sujan.

Sujan asked the contractors to complete the work within the deadline.

Asked, Kudrot E-Khudha said the Covid-19 pandemic has caused the delay in the tendering proposal (DPP) and at the same time, request the authorities concerned to search for the fund to commence physical works of the workshop as soon as possible.

Currently, the maintenance of both metre-gauge and broad-gauge carriages and wagons is being carried out at Saidpur Carriage and Wagon Shop.

AT A GLANCE

- » Project to build workshop for maintaining carriages, wagons
- » Preparatory works to be completed in 16 months
- » Project to cost Tk 26.98cr
- » Deadline extended from June 2022 to June 2024

“The Covid-19 pandemic has caused the delay in the tendering process, consequently delaying the implementation of the project. If the project is found to be feasible, we will prepare a DPP and request the authorities concerned to search for the fund to commence physical works of the workshop as soon as possible.”

process, consequently delaying the implementation of the project.

However, BR sources said it was the legal complexities over the tendering process that caused the delay.

Khuda said their contractor will complete the feasibility study within the first eight months of the contract and then prepare an engineering design and a tender document in detail.

Besides, he said if the project is found to be feasible, they will prepare a development project

However, a large number of carriages and wagons have been procured in the last few years and an additional fleet is expected to be added in the near future.

And so, BR has taken the initiative to construct a modern maintenance workshop in Rajbari, said a BR official, requesting anonymity.

Railways Ministry Secretary Humayun Kabir and BR Director General Dharendra Nath Mazumder also spoke during the contract signing ceremony.

People waiting to oust govt: Fakhrul

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

BNP yesterday claimed that the people are now eager like a “rumbling volcano” to oust the current government.

“All of our rallies have been held peacefully... But the government is so scared that it has arrested more than 500 leaders and workers of our party in false cases,” Mirza Fakhrul Islam Alamgir, secretary general of the party, said while addressing a discussion at Jatiya Press Club, marking the 46th death anniversary of Maulana Abdul Hamid Khan Bhasani.

The BNP leader alleged that the government has again started filing “false”, “fictitious” cases against opposition leaders and activists.

He said common people are joining their divisional rallies with huge enthusiasm.

Fakhrul called Bhasani a rare politician and urged BNP leaders and activists to follow his ideals.

Political situation, bigotry behind tourism drop
Say travel-agent leaders

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Association of Travel Agents of Bangladesh (ATAB) yesterday said unhealthy political environment and religious bigotry are the major reasons why foreign tourists are not coming to Bangladesh, restricting the tourism sector from flourishing.

Top leaders of ATAB – a platform of around 3,500 travel agents across the country – also said the government is doing almost nothing to develop or boost the country's tourism industry.

ATAB leaders made the remarks while holding a courtesy call with the newly elected executive committee of Aviation and Tourism Journalists' Forum of Bangladesh (ATJFB) at its office in the capital.

Tanzim Anwar, president of ATJFB, led the delegation on behalf of the organisation.

ATAB President SM Manzur Murshed Mahbub said media plays a crucial role in developing the tourism industry in any country.

ATAB Secretary General Abdus Salam Aref said there are many problems regarding fixing airfare by different airlines operating to and from Bangladesh.

Mentioning their issues with Biman and the Civil Aviation Authority of Bangladesh, he said, “We all should work together to solve them.”

About ATAB's first ever three-day long Bangladesh International Travel and Tourism Expo, which will start on December 1, he said they want to discuss all their issues in the expo.

Nabanna festivities reach Dhaka

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

The smell of new paddy has engulfed every house in rural Bangladesh, announcing the arrival of Nabanna.

Nabanna Mela (fair) is generally held in the countryside when the first day of Bangla month Agrahayan greets the nation. The festival cuts across communities and is a cause for festivities for the farmers.

Yesterday, the celebrations went beyond the windy meadows of the countryside and arrived at the concrete jungle – Dhaka.

With the theme “Let's all meet at the Nabanna (hay) festival”, an event was organised on the open stage of Bangladesh Shilpakala Academy. As per tradition, the festival was organised by National Nabanna Utsab Celebration Board.

The festival started at dawn to the tune of flute.
