Tangail Hindu home, temple ransacked over land dispute

OUR CORRESPONDENT, Tangail

The home of a Hindu family was ransacked and the idols in their puja mandap were desecrated in an attack carried out by their neighbours over a land dispute in the Bhuangpur upazila of Tangail.

Five people were injured in the incident that occurred yesterday morning in the Kostapara area of the upazila.

According to sources, the family of Subas Ghosh of Ghoshpara and the family of Khorshed Bepari of neighbouring Bepari para had been in dispute for a long time over a piece of land.

Recently, the family of Khorshed had filed a case against the family of Subas over the matter.

However, the case was dismissed in court on Thursday.

Yesterday, members of both families got into an argument.

At one stage, Khorshed, his brother Arshed, and their family members ransacked the house of Subas and desecrated the idols in their puja mandap.

When Subas's family resisted, Khorshed's family members attacked them with sharp weapons.

Four family members of Subas, who were among the injured, were taken to Bhuangpur Upazila Health Complex.

Massive Russian strikes cripple energy infrastructure; Sweden confirms Nord Stream pipeline sabotage

AGENCIES

More than 10 million Ukrainians are without electricity after dozens of Russian air attacks on the country's energy infrastructure as winter sets in and temperatures plummet, President Volodymyr Zelensky has said.

Repeated barrages disrupted electricity and water supplies across Ukraine, but Russia blamed the civilian suffering on Ukraine's refusal to negotiate an end to the war that began on February 24.

On Thursday, residents of the recently recaptured city of Kherson in southern Ukraine rushed to stockpile food, blankets, and winter clothing, with shouting matches and shoving erupting as volunteers tossed supplies into the crowds that waited hours in freezing rain.

Several Ukrainian cities were attacked as the latest assault coincided with the season's first snow, and officials in Kyiv warned of "difficult" days ahead.

"Currently, more than 10 million Ukrainians are without electricity," Zelensky said later on Thursday, adding the regions of Odesa, Vinnytsia, Sumy and Kyiv were most affected.

Russia's defence ministry said yesterday its forces had used long-range weapons on Thursday to strike defence and industrial facilities, including "missile manufacturing facilities".

The UN has warned of a humanitarian disaster in Ukraine this winter due to power and water shortages.

Ukrainian forces in the past 24 hours downed two Russian cruise missiles, five air-launched missiles and five Iranian-made Shahed-136 drones, Ukraine's military said.

The United Nations has warned of a humanitarian disaster in Ukraine this winter due to power and water shortages. One of the European Commission's three vice presidents, Valdis Dombrovskis, arrived in Kyiv yesterday to discuss emergency EU financial support for Ukraine in the coming months, reports Reuters.

In Kherson, investigators have uncovered 63 bodies bearing signs of torture after Russian forces left, Ukraine's interior minister was quoted as saying.

The Ukrainian parliament's human rights commissioner, Dmytro Lubinets, released a video of what he said was a torture chamber used by Russian forces in the Kherson region, including a small room in which he said up to 25 people were kept at a time.

Meanwhile, Swedish officials confirmed yesterday that the September blasts which destroyed sections of the Nord Stream pipelines carrying natural gas from Russia to Germany under the Baltic Sea were acts of sabotage.

"The analyses conducted found traces of explosives on several foreign objects" found at the sites of the blasts, prosecutor Mats Ljungqvist who is leading the preliminary

India launches first privately made rocket into space

REUTERS, Bengaluru

India successfully launched its first privately developed rocket, the Vikram-S, yesterday, a milestone in the country's effort to create a commercial space industry and to compete on cost.

The 545-kg rocket, developed by space startup Skyroot, took off from the Indian space agency's launch site near Chennai and hit a peak altitude of 89.5 kilometres (km).

The rocket has the capability of reaching Mach 5 - five times the speed of sound - and carrying a payload of 83 kg to an altitude of 100 kilometres, the company said.

The Skyroot team had set a target of 80 km for its first launch, a benchmark some agencies define as the frontier of space. The Karman line - set by an international aeronautics body as defining the boundary between the Earth's atmosphere and space - is at 100 km altitude.

Video footage showed the rocket taking off from the space centre, leaving a plume of smoke and fire in its trail. It splashed down in the Bay of Bengal about 5 minutes after launch, officials said.
