Stunning new collection from Monereen for winter dawats

One fine evening, while going back home after finishing her classes, something just clicked in Aambereen S Zaman. A dream of owning her own design brand that she had been pushing down for so long; she just could not keep postponing it anymore. And that moment was the start of Monereen, a brand that was launched in 2018. Within just a few years, they have been successful in getting the attention of fashion enthusiasts.

“Ever since Monereen came into being, our forte has been exclusivity. We don’t want to make 100 pieces of one collection. We want everyone to have something unique, something that represents their style,” explained Aambereen, designer and founder of Monereen.

For their loyal clientele, Monereen always aims to create a style that is a beautiful blend of comfort and exclusivity. Looking at their upcoming collection, each piece is designed in a way that one can wear the designs to work in the morning as well as attend a party at night.

“We all have busy lives. And now that the wedding season is almost here, most of us will have to attend many dawats. And this collection will be exactly what you are looking for,” shared Aambereen, explaining the thought behind the collection.

In this collection, you will notice a heavy influence of bright colours like magenta, and electric blue. Apart from colours, khadi fabrics and unique cuts are also some of the significant aspects of this collection.
