

SOUTH POINT SCHOOL AND COLLEGE

Making ideal person through creative education

South Point School and College began its journey in 2002 with a mission to shape an individual's mind through co-curricular activities and make them a confident and ideal human being. The organisation never believes in the approach of memorisation to achieve good results. It was established by Principal Hamida Ali, former founder teacher of Viqarunnisa Noon College, under the patronage of prominent industrialist engineer MA Rashid, leader of Karnafuly Ship Builders. It started with only 200 students in the Gulshan area of the capital city but now, 15,000 students are studying here.

Apart from English and Bengali medium, English version is also taught at this institution from playgroup to 12th grade. This institution is now being run with unique features and specialties in a total of six areas of Dhaka city, namely Malibagh, Baridhara, Banani, Mirpur, Uttara and Dholai Par. The construction of the new campus on a plot of 6 bigha land is in progress in Malibagh. Along with this, the construction of the 10-storey building is also going on. In Uttara, 7 bigha of land has also been taken. In Baridhara, nine and three storied buildings have been built. Entering the large courtyard, there are escalators and several large elevators. Also, there is a spacious auditorium, modern library lab with high speed internet facility, hygienic canteen etc. Digitisation of textbooks and developing smart classes are also in process.

Here, creative approaches are followed in teaching and exam methods, where students get the opportunity to think and learn through analysis and conceptualisation. The teachers explain topics based on real examples. The students' minds are trained in such a way that they create questions and find answers on their own to feed their curious mind after learning a new topic in the classroom.

The passing rate of South Point School and College is enviable. It has 100 per cent passing rate every year. Along with this, the number of GPA-5 or A-plus students is also increasing with each year. The rate of GPA-5 students stands between
