The future is all we need to look forward to

"Can't repeat the past? Why of course you can!"

— F Scott Fitzgerald, *The Great Gatsby

The Great Gatsby is mostly about how the central character, Jay Gatsby, tries to beat his former days of financial despondency and at the same time, tries to win back the love lost in the past. It's a struggle where the present is almost lost in a phantom battle with bygone time.

For the New Year, our motto is to let go of the past peacefully. If it's not in the present, then it has no use for us. We can only learn from our past, take in the positives and walk toward the future.

Our motto for the New Year should be: A brand new and better myself.
