

‘MISBEHAVIOUR’ WITH JUDGE
Litigants suffer for deadlock in B’baria courts

OUR CORRESPONDENT, Brahmanbaria

Judicial activities at Brahmanbaria District Judge Court and Chief Judicial Magistrate’s Court remained suspended for three working days till yesterday, following an altercation between lawyers and court employees over the alleged misbehaviour with a judge.

This situation is causing immense sufferings to thousands of litigants in the district.

The District Bar Association started the court boycott programme from Thursday morning, after it was announced a day before, demanding the withdrawal of two judges, including Brahmanbaria district judge, and a court staffer.

On Wednesday morning, court employees separately started a work abstention, protesting the lawyers’ actions, but withdrew it later that day.

On January 2, lawyers reportedly misbehaved with Judge Mohammad Faruque of the Women and Children Repression Prevention Tribunal-1 in Brahmanbaria and created chaos in the courtroom.

Meanwhile, Sohel Miah, who went to the court from Nasirnagar upazila’s Dantmandal village for a bail hearing, said, “We are in trouble as the court activities are closed. My family is worried as there is no guarantee when the proceedings will start.”

Alal Mia from Kuttapara village of Sarail upazila said proceedings centring his daughter’s death are not moving forward due to the suspension of activities.

“My son’s fever has not yet subsided. He remains senseless most of the time. Due to the lack of a bed, we are forced to keep him on the floor despite his severe situation,” she told this newspaper yesterday.

Many other patients and their attendees echoed the same.

Niaz Mustafa Chowdhury, assistant director of KMCH, said, “We’re struggling to keep up with so many patients.”

Yesterday from 12:00pm to 2:00pm, this correspondent visited various wards and units at KMCH and found patients on the corridor floors, in front of the elevator, and in the balconies.

Some wards were so crowded that there was no space to even enter. The children’s ward has the worst conditions. To stop air from blowing in from outside, that ward’s balcony space has been covered with polythene and cloth.

Md Abu Zahid, assistant registrar of the children’s ward, said the number of children suffering from cold is increasing due to the recent cold waves. They are mostly admitted with diarrhoea and viral pneumonia. The age of such patients is between two months and six months.

Contacted, KMCH Director Dr Md Rabiul Hasan, said, “The hospital doesn’t have enough doctors to treat such a large number of patients.”
