

Women on the move: Making travelling easier

Bangladesh is a treasure trove of natural beauty and has many scenic places to explore, from the waters of Lalakhal in Sylhet to the hilly views of Sajek in Rangamati. And whether a frequent traveller or not, we Bangladeshis have it on our bucket list to someday explore the many beautiful places in our country.

While the desire to explore new places may be the same for all, is travelling throughout the country the same for everyone? When you think of it, would you regard travelling as carefree and safe for women in Bangladesh as you would for men? Riddled with the same questions and eager to pave the path forward for women, several travel groups catering to the needs of women started popping up online. These travel groups have not only contributed to enhancing the overall travel landscape of Bangladesh making it more female-friendly, but also have given the scope to women to be free-spirited explorers and experience the joy of travelling, minus the turbulences.
