

Manufacturers and wholesalers in Narayanganj are among the biggest suppliers of clothing items to retailers and wholesalers in the capital and other parts of the country. Though they supply products throughout the year, payments are usually cleared ahead of Eid-ul-Fitr. But the fire that gutted 3,845 shops in and around Bangabazar on April 4 has left the suppliers worried about the fate of the arrears. The photos were taken on Monday.

Narayanganj traders feel the heat of Bangabazar fire

Affected shops owe huge sums to suppliers

SAURAV HOSSAIN SIAM, Narayanganj

Narayanganj-based clothing traders have also been affected by the recent fire in Bangabazar and are passing days in uncertainty as wholesalers and retailers in the popular market in Dhaka owe a significant amount of money to their suppliers.

Narayanganj is one of the biggest producers of readymade clothing items used by local middle-income and lower-middle-income consumers.

More than 5,000 hosiery factories have been set up in several parts of the city, particularly in the sadar and Bandar upazilas. Clothes manufactured in the factories are sold all over the country.

Suppliers say a large number of clothes made in the industrial belt are sold to the shops in Bangabazar throughout the year but payments are largely made ahead of Eid-ul-Fitr.

Eid-ul-Fitr is one of the biggest religious festivals in Muslim-majority Bangladesh and the volume of sales increases several times ahead of the festival.

Traders say businessmen in the capital and other parts of the country such as Rajshahi, Cumilla, Faridpur and Chandpur come to buy clothes from Narayanganj at wholesale rates. Most of the traders in Bangabazar and Sadarghat of the capital also purchase clothes from here.

Hundreds of small and large producers in the city's Nayamati, Tanbazar, Deobhogh areas are regular suppliers to the traders in Bangabazar.

But the fire incident in Bangabazar on the dawn of April 4 has left the businessmen in Narayanganj worried since they don't know whether they would get the payments and if yes, when.

The fire at Bangabazar Shopping Complex and adjacent markets burnt down 3,845 shops. There is a large hosiery market in Deobhogh where readymade clothes are also sold to wholesale traders.

Md Selim, owner of Al-Mujib Garments in the Deobhogh market, said he used to supply products to 30 wholesalers in Bangabazar before the fire broke out.

"They would take products from me throughout the year and payments usually remain due. All transactions are cleared at least 10 days before Eid. But all of the goods of my parties were burnt to ashes in the fire. Arrears of about Tk 1 crore have been unpaid now. But I can't ask for the money in such a difficult situation."

"But how can my employees go home before Eid if I don't get the money and pay them the salaries?" he asked.

Al-Karim Garments owner Abdul Matin, Ruma Garments owner Mujibur Rahman, AK Fashion owner Abul Kalam and Awlad Garments owner Awlad Hossain, RP Garments owner Abdul Matin, and HK Fashion's owner Hasibur Rahman echoed Selim. Traders of Bangabazar owe them from as low as Tk 2 lakh to as high as Tk 2 crore.

According to Nazmul Alam Sajal, president of the Bangladesh Hosiery Association, more than 200 traders in Narayanganj have been affected by the fire and they have more than Tk 100 crore in unpaid bills.

Rafikul Islam, owner of Mark Fashion in Nayamati, says they start selling Eid-oriented clothes 15 days before Ramadan begins and it continues until the 15th day of the fasting month.

"We receive payments before the Eid day. But this time everything has become uncertain."

Md Fayez, owner of Kanak Fashion, said: "If our clients are unable to run their business, we will not get paid."

Hundreds of traders in Tanbazar's Habib Shopping Complex, River View Market and Farzana Tower are also feeling the pinch of the fire.

Moktar Hossain, treasurer of the central committee of traders of the Habib Shopping Complex, says some traders in the market have unrealised payments of Tk 1 lakh to 20 lakh.

"Traders in Bangabazar have taken Tk 40 lakh worth of products from me. These arrears were supposed to be settled before Eid. Now I don't know when I will get the money."

About 500 businessmen in Narayanganj have more than Tk 100 crore in arrears, he said.

Mujibur Rahman, vice president of the Deobhog Market Owners Association, says traders of Bangabazar owe them more than Tk 40 crore.

"Now we are living days in uncertainty as the stores of our clients have been burnt to ashes."

Members of the Bangladesh Hosiery Association held a meeting on Sunday.

"We are preparing a list of the businesses that have had arrears with the traders of Bangabazar and by how much," said Sajal.

"After we complete the list, we will sit with the Bangladesh Knitwear Manufacturers and Exporters Association and the Federation of Bangladesh Chambers of Commerce and Industry to resolve the problem. The present government is business friendly. I hope the government will stand by the affected traders."

Asia may grow faster than developed economies Morgan Stanley says

REUTERS

Asia's economic growth could outpace developed countries' by 5 per cent by end-2023 driven by China's easing of Covid-19 curbs, strong domestic demand and interest rates staying in less restrictive territory, said Morgan Stanley economists.

The recent banking stress in the US and Europe strengthens the case for Asia's outperformance, MS Asia economists, led by Chetan Ahya, said in a note dated Tuesday.

"Lending standards will tighten in the US and Europe, and, in turn, weigh on domestic demand," wrote Ahya.

"While this will spill over to Asia in the form of the external demand recovery being constrained, we think Asia will still be able to generate sufficient domestic demand... to continue to allow growth differentials to shift in favour of Asia."

A 5 per cent higher growth than developed markets would be the strongest since 2017, MS notes.

The US Federal Reserve and the European Central Bank raised rates by 475 bps and 350 bps, respectively, in a bid to tame inflation - their most aggressive pace in recent times - but the rate-hike cycle in Asia was more subdued, they note.

Additionally, China's reopening distributes benefits to the rest of the region, while Asia's other three large economies - Japan, India and Indonesia - all have economy-specific factors driving domestic demand, MS said.

Cars move on a street at the Beijing's Central Business District, during the morning rush hour following the Chinese Lunar New Year holiday in Beijing on January 30. China's reopening of the economy following pandemic distributes benefits to the rest of the region, Morgan Stanley economists said.

IMF trims India's growth forecast

REUTERS, New Delhi

The International Monetary Fund (IMF) said on Tuesday that it expects India's economy to grow 5.9 per cent in the current fiscal year though it warned that turmoil in the financial system will hurt global growth.

In its World Economic Outlook, the IMF forecast global real GDP growth at 2.8 per cent for 2023 and 3 per cent for 2024, marking a sharp slowdown from 3.4 per cent growth in 2022 due to tighter monetary policies.

"With the recent increase in financial market volatility, the fog around the world economic outlook has thickened," the IMF said as it and the World Bank launched spring meetings this week in Washington.

The IMF predicted that the Indian economy would grow 5.9 per cent in the 2023-24 financial year, down 0.2 per cent from its January estimate, and much lower than the Indian central bank's prediction for 6.5 per cent growth during this period.
