However, Nur denied these allegations and defended the decision, claiming that it was made in accordance with the party's charter and without any coercion.

ANGER OVER MEETING WITH SAFADI

Many leaders and activists within the party have expressed their anger towards Nur following reports of his meeting with Safadi.

According allegations, Nur admitted to the meeting during a gathering on the roof of Kibria's house on June 18. However, Nur denied the

"This can't happen in any democratic county... my privacy, politics, and democracy are my rights," Fakhrul said

People's National Party (NPP) arranged the programme at Dhaka Reporters' Unity (DRU) marking its 16th founding anniversary. Fakhrul alleged that the government has started implementing its various plots by using the state machinery as it did in the The law and the home ministries have sent letters to police and judges to ensure prompt trials of the political cases filed since 2013 and dispose of those by two months, Fakhrul alleged.

The BNP leader said there is no point in making any compromise with the current government as it will again fool people.

"There can be some discussions as per the democratic norms, but with whom will we discuss? The government doesn't believe in democracy and the rights of others," Fakhrul added.

He said most of the democratic political parties are now united in one thing, that the next election must be held under a non-party neutral government and the current regime must

He said they have informed the high-ups in the ministry of health and family welfare about the situation. "They are concerned about the issue," he said.

Agitating doctors, meanwhile, said they have no choice but to live a miserable life with the poor amount of allowances.

They started their demonstration from last month to press home their demand which also includes the payment of the arrears.

response, the government has released a fund to pay the arrears to the authorities of Bangabandhu Sheikh Mujib Medical University (BSMMU) before Eid-ul-Azha.

Currently, the BSMMU authorities supervise the payment of the stipend on behalf of the government.

Earlier, BSMMU Vice Chancellor Prof Sharfuddin Ahmed informed that they have proposed the health ministry to allocate the fund to the respective institutions where the trainee doctors study.

the Meanwhile, postgraduate trainee private doctors in Chattogram Medical College Hospital went on work stoppage since yesterday morning as part of the centrally declared programme to press home their demands.
