

Townships to be built beside Dhaka

Feasibility study conducted, informs state minister

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Rajuk has taken up a project titled "flood-flow area, water reservoir conservation and compact township" beside the Turag river to reduce pressure on the capital and in an effort to build a water-centric smart city.

Sharif Ahmed, state minister for Housing and Public Works, informed to parliament yesterday in reply to a query of Awami League MP Benjir Ahmed.

In a scripted answer, he said the project proposes to use 32 percent of land as development area (residential, commercial, civic services) and 68 percent as conservation area (reservoir, greenery, recreational facilities and canal/river embankment).

He also said the feasibility study of the project has been completed.

"The project, if implemented, will play an effective role in reducing waterlogging and traffic congestion in Dhaka," Sharif Ahmad said.

He said there is a plan to allocate plots and flats under the said project.

The state minister said the National Housing Authority has visited Dhamrai, Keraniganj, Singair in Manikganj and Sirajdikhan in Munshiganj to take up the satellite township development project. About 7,000 acres of land in that area is suitable for housing projects, he added.

The last session of 11th parliament that began yesterday will continue till November 2.

The project, if implemented, will play an effective role in reducing waterlogging and traffic congestion in Dhaka.

Bagerhat betel nut farmers point fingers at syndicate for controlling market

OUR CORRESPONDENT, Bagerhat

Despite a bumper yield of betel nut in Bagerhat this year, cultivators remain upset due to not getting the expected market price.

They alleged a syndicate is active in controlling the price of betel nuts, depriving most farmers and small traders.

Last year, a bundle of betel nuts (one kuri consisting of 231 pieces) sold for Tk 800, but this year the price has dropped to between Tk 250-500.

Plantation owners said due to high yield, the market price was high at the beginning of the season but dropped significantly after a few weeks. A syndicate of a few local traders took advantage of it and are buying betel nuts in bulk and selling those to wholesalers directly.

Therefore, wholesale buyers from different parts of the country are not visiting the major betel nut markets, including Badal Haat in Kachua upazila and Mazar Haat in Bagerhat Sadar, forcing producers to sell betel nuts at lower prices to local traders, said Abul Hossain Khan, a betel nut grower from Sangdia village in Kachua upazila.

Another farmer of the same village, Bhaskar Banerjee, said, "I have to pay Tk 10 to collect a bunch of betel nuts from a tree. Then there's the cost of removing the betel nuts from the bunch, counting them, and transporting them to the market. Selling around 230 betel nuts for Tk 250 to Tk 450 leaves me with very little return."

Local traders, however, denied there was any syndicate involvement in the markets.

Narayan Chandra Bawali, one of the biggest betel nut traders in Kachua upazila, said they are buying betel nuts at Tk 250-600 per bundle and sending them to different places, including Rangpur.

"The betel nuts are coming to haats in huge quantities, so the price is low. There is no syndicate here," said Shahid Khan, another trader.

"Bagerhat district has 3,960 hectares of betel nut plantations. In fiscal year 2022-23, around 26,133 tonnes of betel nuts were produced in the district. We are hopeful the production will be higher this year," said Shankar Kumar Majumdar, deputy director of the Department of Agricultural Extension in Bagerhat.

Regarding the syndicate, the officials said they will look into the issue.

more than 20,000 Chinese nationals living and working in Bangladesh, and their safety and security is of utmost importance.

"Our focus is economic development. We will continue to pursue it in Bangladesh and elsewhere. The world needs more cooperation instead of confrontation," he said regarding the geopolitical dynamics among global powers in the Asia-Pacific region.

Bangladesh is the first country in South Asia to subscribe to the Belt and Road Initiative (BRI) that is observing its 10th year anniversary this year. The 3rd Belt and Road Forum for International Cooperation held in Beijing last week ushered in a new stage of "high-quality development" of BRI.

After the election, Yao said, China will come up with funding for new and diversified projects, apart from infrastructures.

When asked whether Chinese loans to Bangladesh may create a "debt trap", the Chinese envoy said Chinese loans are only seven percent of all foreign loans that Bangladesh receives. Bangladesh gets major loans from the World Bank, IMF and Japan.

Yao Wen said China is working hard to start the Rohingya repatriation by this year.
