an educational qualification of HSC (Science) or equivalent with mandatory physics and mathematics.
Sadia is the wife of Captain Sazid Ahmed who was removed from the post of chief of training following several allegations of irregularities including harassing female cockpit crew, sources at Biman said.
Biman insiders said Sadia got appointed in Biman for her husband.
Meanwhile, Al Mehdi Islam, who was selected as the first officer, submitted a fake Airline Transport Pilot License certificate. He submitted the certificate by forging the signature of the assistant director, Flight Safety Department, CAAB.

Currently both Sadia and Al Mehdi are absconding.
Sadia reportedly left the country for Canada in April without appearing before a probe body of Biman.
After The Daily Star published a report on anomalies in pilot recruitment in March, Biman suspended Sadia from the national flag carrier.
CAAB Chairman Air Vice Marshal M Mafidur Rahman said an enquiry committee was formed when complaints were made against Sadia and Al Mehdi. The investigation found their fraudulence and strict action will be taken against them, he said.

currently serves as its president, said, “An overwhelming number of patients in Bangladesh need help and we usually get requests for assistance from cardiologists and hospitals.”
The Basic Needs Program usually covers 75 percent of the total costs for the needy, hoping the family will take care of the rest depending on their situation, he added.
“Our procedure involves meeting the family at their residence located anywhere in the country once the partnering hospitals estimate the medical costs. We support them through regular home visits from admission to follow-ups,” said Shamimur Rahman, country director for Bangladesh.

Speaking of challenges, Dr Hubbard said fundraising is one of the toughest issues at the moment as the organisation is solely reliant on private donations.
“Private gifts are only used for surgeries while administrative costs are covered separately, ensuring that each extra donation directly contributes to a child’s surgery,” he added.

The organisation plans to partner with more hospitals outside Dhaka to promote decentralised pediatric heart surgeries.
Dr Rokonzaman Selim, senior cardiac surgery consultant at Ibrahim Cardiac Hospital, said “They fund surgeries for children from impoverished families who may never have the ability to afford heart surgery in their lifetime.”

draft law has received its initial approval, or whether it adequately safeguards public interest or not.”
He said, “It is legitimate to question the meticulousness of the decision to approve the draft, as it diverges from the practice of limiting activities of the election-time government and deferring policy decisions until the newly elected government takes charge.

The law, they said, had far-reaching implications.
Dr Iftekharuzzaman pointed out, “It has been disclosed in the Cabinet Division’s press briefing that the supervisory authority overseeing personal data protection will be under the government’s control. When the government itself is the largest data processor, it represents a blatant conflict of interest for the same government to control the body responsible for ensuring data protection.”

He said the supervisory body must oversee the government’s data processing activities while also safeguarding citizens’ data from arbitrary access by the government.

First Death Anniversary of

Late Mr. Anwarul Amin

Today is the first death Anniversary of late Mr. Anwarul Amin, who was the Chairman of Impact Foundation Bangladesh, a renowned NGO with international links, dedicated to the prevention and cure of avoidable disabilities in the country. Besides rendering other life-saving activities, it also runs "Jibon Tari", a floating hospital that provides medical services in some of the inaccessible riverine areas of Bangladesh.

Late Mr. Anwarul Amin was a founder-trustee of Impact Foundation Bangladesh and ran the Foundation as Chairman from 2004 till his sad demise in 2022. During this period, Impact Foundation Bangladesh expanded its activities significantly.

Mr. Amin was a very successful innovative banker and a popular social activist. He served in various banks and financial institutions from the early fifties and contributed significantly to the development of the banking sector in newly independent Bangladesh. He established the first Bangladeshi bank (Uttara Bank) in London in March 1972, immediately after the independence of Bangladesh. He was the Head of Operations of BCCI Bank in Bangladesh, China, and Japan from 1980 to 1990. He also served as the President of the China-Bangladesh People's Friendship Association for a long period and contributed to the development of closer relations between the two countries.

late Mr. Amin was born on 26 December 1935 in an illustrious family of Bengal. He left behind his only son Kaiser Tamiz Amin, a renowned financial consultant and only daughter, a well-known journalist, Aasha Mehreen Amin, Joint Editor of The Daily Star, and a host of relatives, friends, and well-wishers to mourn his death. Late Professor Razia Khan Amin, an eminent Author, and educationist, was his wife.

He is being keenly remembered with respect and fondness by all who came to know him.
