Remove dams across Nabaganga river: HC

BSS, Dhaka

The High Court yesterday ordered the authorities concerned to remove earthen embankments made across the Nabaganga river in Jhenidah.

The HC also asked the authorities to conduct a boundary survey and prepare a list of people occupying the river land.

A High Court division bench of Justice Mustafa Zaman Islam and Justice Md Atabullah passed the order after holding hearing on a petition filed as public interest litigation.

Human Rights and Peace for Bangladesh (HRPB) filed the writ petition.

Referring to various newspaper reports, the rights organisation said fish farming is taking place in the river in as many as seven points.

Earthen embankments have been built within the 2.5km area of the river for that, according to the petition.

Advocate Manzill Murshid, who moved the plea on behalf of HRPB, said the court asked Jhenidah deputy commissioner to submit a list of river land grabbers within 60 days.

MOULVIBAZAR'S BARLEKHA UPAZILA Dragon fruit cultivation shows promise

OUR CORRESPONDENT, Moulvibazar

Arrays of dragon fruit plants blooming with flowers and fruits – this is what this correspondent was welcomed to during his recent visit to Koyes Ahmed's orchard in Dashinbhag village of Moulvibazar's Barlekha upazila.

Being a farmer for the last 40 years, Koyes first took up dragon fruit cultivation in 2020, investing Tk 3 lakh for his 15-decimal garden. He started to produce the fruit commercially after his investment was returned from his first harvest.

Once planted, the trees bear fruit for about 25 years, requiring Tk 5,000-7,000 for fertilisers and maintenance annually, said Koyes, who currently sells each kilo of the fruit for Tk 150-300, depending on size.

Following Koyes' footsteps, many in the area have taken up this crop as the soil of the area is very suitable for its production, said Manowar Hossain, agricultural officer of the upazila.

"The fruit is definitely profitable and we are cooperating with Koyes to further help farmers by teaching them the correct agricultural method and techniques," he added.

Question raised over 4 hurt as BCL attacks

Shamim's lawyer also submitted another letter claiming it to be a response of the consular section of the Embassy of the Netherlands in Bangladesh. "As per your email, you applied for renouncing Dutch Citizenship in Holland's foreign ministry on 09.11.2023. However, we need instructions from the foreign ministry. Therefore, wait until the procedure is complete. In the meantime, if we receive any instruction from the ministry, we will follow up accordingly," said the letter to Shamim.

Azad's lawyer said the document appears "suspicious and manipulated" for several reasons, including the name of the country mentioned as "Holland" in place of the Netherlands. It is also not signed or stated to have been issued by a named diplomat.

Neither the spokesperson for the Netherlands embassy nor Shamim could be reached for comments despite repeated attempts.

After being communicated by the EC, the foreign ministry sent a letter to the Netherlands embassy in Dhaka seeking to know if Shamim Haque is a citizen of the Netherlands, said a ministry official.

"The Netherlands embassy has sent the query to the Dutch home ministry. It generally takes time to get a response from them," the official added.
