

BEYOND AESTHETICS

Décor that speaks to the soul

Our bedrooms serve as more than just places to sleep; they are places where we relax, rejuvenate, and think. By adding a touch of beauty and calmness to your interior design, your bedroom may become a serene space that uplifts your emotions.

A captivating room setting that promotes relaxation may be created by combining colours, floral accents, and intelligent designs. Create a space that exudes the calming tones of indigo. Use traditional motifs that tell us stories of legacy and the finest of local workmanship.

The rich, dazzling designs of Nakshi Kantha wonderfully present the delicate beauty of hand-stitched patterns. The several layers of meaning and importance that these motifs add to your environment will be a wonderful addition to the ambience you wish to create.

When these components are incorporated, the bedroom becomes more than simply a room; it becomes a nurturing haven, a reflection of the owner's taste, and a place of peace and serenity.

As you are turning your bedroom into a place where every moment is filled with calmness and every feature exudes elegance, the idea for decorating is to create a space that speaks to your deepest longings and it is not just about aesthetics.

We can never complete discussing the interiors without working on the dining space. And the only way to bring in the vibrant colours of spring and summer is to have colourful placemats and runners that complement the dinnerware. A little bit of floral touch with a bouquet completes the look and mood!

The decor section at Aarong includes all kinds of trendy homedecor items from stylish cushion covers to eye catching dining table placemats. Visit and decorate your interiors in the colours of spring.

By K Tanzeel Zaman
Photo: Aarong

Soft pastel tones complement the indigo, bringing balance and lightness to the room and these gentle hues create a sense of calmness. Delicate floral touches introduce a natural element, bridging the indoor space with the beauty of the outside world. The whispers of petals and leaves in these designs infuse the room with a subtle vitality.

The sheen and refinement of intricately designed silver embellishments reflect light and heighten the peaceful atmosphere of the space. Elegant prints, whether geometric or abstract, provide a contemporary contrast to the classic components, fusing eras harmoniously.

