EDUCATION SHOULD BE IN MOTHER TONGUE: PM Meanwhile, Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina yesterday inaugurated a four-day programme of the International Mother Language Institute at Segunbagicha to mark the occasion.

The medium for education in educational institutions should be everyone's mother tongue, said the PM during the event.

"If anyone gets education through their mother tongue, then receiving that education, knowing that education, and understanding that education will become much easier," she said.

However, the whole world is now so close to each other that learning other languages is also needed, she added.

Elias sees success in dragon fruit farming

SOHRAB HOSSAIN, Patuakhali

In Barguna's Amtali upazila, lies a meticulously laid out dragon fruit plantation, surrounded by many other fruit trees such as guava, mango, and more.

Rows of dragon fruit plants thrive in plastic drums on a cement base across the 2.5-acre plantation. Besides, there is a pond in the middle where different fish are being farmed including tilapia, rohu and catla.

One Elias Hossain works alone in the plantation. The youth greeted this correspondent with a smile when he visited the place recently.

The 32-year-old is now earning Tk 10-12 lakh annually from this initiative.

The path to this success, however, was not smooth.

After his graduation, Elias went to Kuwait in 2012 spending Tk 5 lakh. But he had to return home empty handed in 2017 due to various reasons, and remained unemployed for two more years.

However, he did not lose hope. After watching videos on dragon fruit cultivation on YouTube, Elias decided to try his luck in it. In 2019, he leased 33 decimals of land near his home for Tk 5,000 and started dragon fruit cultivation with 100 saplings, alongside several other fruits including guava and mango around the plantation.

The harvest after the first year earned him a profit, which inspired him to expand his plantation.

At present, there are 2,000 dragon fruit plants in the plantation. The orchard of mango, guava and other fruits has also from my garden," he added.

Former deputy commissioner of Barguna Habibur Rahman and UNO of Amtali Md Ashraf Alam visited his plantation along with officials of the Department of Agricultural Extension.

"Elias' initiative is an exemplary grown in size and production.

"I do not use any chemicals. So far I have spent Tk 30 lakh. Now my annual income from the cultivation is Tk 10-12 lakh," said Elias.

"Fruit traders from surrounding areas including Amtali, Barguna, Kalapara, Patuakhali buy fruits one. There is a high demand for dragon fruit in the market, and many are cultivating it watching his success. We have often provided him with support and advice regarding his initiative," said Md Icha, agriculture officer in Amtali upazila.

Divided by border, united by language

STAR REPORT

There is a border separating them, and on paper, they are citizens of two different countries. But they have a common identity, which is they all speak the same language - Bangla.

Marking International Mother Language Day, hundreds of Bangla-speaking people from both sides of the India-Bangladesh border came together to pay homage to the language martyrs at zero point of Hili border in Dinajpur and no man's land at Benapole Land Port in Jashore yesterday.

They offered floral tributes to the language martyrs of 1952 while uniting from both sides with a shared love for Bangla.

At Hili border, cultural representatives from India's Balurghat handed over floral tributes to Muktiyoddha Sangsad and Muktiyoddha Santan Command in Hakimpur upazila of Dinajpur, Bangladesh, at 11:00am. Later, they offered floral tributes at the martyrs' memorials in their respective countries.

In Benapole, Bangalees from both India and Bangladesh jointly paid their homage to the language martyrs at the temporary Shaheed Minar erected in No-Man's Land at 10:00am yesterday.

Hundreds of people from both countries participated in the event.

when the team paid tribute," he added.

Moiful then called him on the phone, where Ziarul mentioned retreating back to his warehouse due to threats from Abul Hasan's men.

Moiful said, "I asked him [Ziarul] if he needed escorts home. He said no."

"After a while, I found out that he had been killed," he added.

Police were informed by a fisherman who found Ziarul lying on a concrete road, 200 yards away from his home around 2:00am.

Upon arrival, the police recovered the body with Ziarul's motorcycle beside him, said ASP Sohel Rana.

The process of filing a case in this connection was ongoing as of last night.

Contacted, Abul Hasan denied any involvement in the killing.

Preparations are underway to file a case at the Bondor Police Station in this regard, said Deputy Commissioner of Custom House AKM Khairul Bashar.

The company has a history of importing commercial items in the name of RMG raw materials, he added.

Contacted, Shafiqul Ahad, the owner of Mahmood Trade International, said, "I am unaware of the matter." He, however, claimed someone else may have misused their company name.

Amid protests by teachers and students, a committee was formed to look into the allegations. Last year, another committee was formed to investigate the matter further.

Despite several attempts, this correspondent failed to contact Mahmudur Rahman.

Mahmudur Rahman

was a student of the 36th batch of the Department of Environmental Science. He served as the president of the JU unit of the Chhatra League in 2012.

In 2018, he was appointed as a lecturer at the Department of Public Health and Informatics, eventually rising to the position of assistant professor.

"This innovative initiative not only aligns with the spirit of International Mother Language Day but also reflects our ongoing efforts to promote diversity, equity, and accessibility in all aspects of our work. The Sign Language E-Dictionary is a powerful tool that allows normal individuals to learn and contribute to building a more inclusive and understanding society," he added.

UNDP also encouraged individuals, communities, and organisations to explore and utilise the e-dictionary resource.

student of the college.

"The presence of a large Shaheed Minar is not a bad thing, but the original monument has been lost in time due to the authorities' negligence. The new generation should know about the glorious past of this institution," he added.

Mahabub Hossain,

secretary of the teachers association of Pabna Edward College, claimed the college authority organises numerous programmes annually to keep the memories of language heroes alive.

He said the new Shaheed Minar is enough to pay tribute to the Language Movement martyrs and activists.
