Meanwhile, one of the alleged stalkers was accorded floral reception by the ruling Awami League men after he was released on bail in a case filed over the stalking.

The family of the ninth-grader said some local youths used to stalk her on the way to and from school. "The stalkers assaulted my daughter on February 27 while she was returning from school," said her father.

SUNDARBANS

Crab fishing season begins

DIPANKAR ROY, Khulna

After a two-month hiatus during the breeding season of crabs, fishermen set sail once more in various rivers and canals of the Sundarbans to resume their crab catching activities.

They set forth after receiving permission from the Forest Department.

The ban, which lasted from January 1 to the end of February, aimed to protect the crab population and ensure sustainable harvesting practices.

Nirmal Kumar Mondal, officer of Kashiabad Forest Station in West Sundarbans, said that crab fishing is prohibited throughout the year in 30 designated canals, declared as sanctuaries, and less than 25 feet wide canals in the Sundarbans.

However, in other rivers and canals, approximately 15,000 fishermen — armed with valid pass-permits — earn a living by catching crabs.

Since the implementation of the crab export policy in 1998, crab fishing pass-permits have been suspended for two months every year.

With the ban lifted yesterday, fishermen are now allowed to resume their activities.

Nirapada Munda, of Koyra-6, has been catching crabs for over 30 years. During the ban, he was forced to sit idly by. Like him, over 70 families of Munda communities of Koyra struggled to make ends meet during this ban.
