

Sweden Crown Princess joins Green Transition Dialogue

STAR REPORT

Crown Princess Victoria of Sweden, UNDP goodwill ambassador, attended a dialogue in Dhaka yesterday, said a press release.

Co-hosted by UNDP and the Embassy of Sweden, the event titled "Accelerating Bangladesh's Green Transition: Public-Private-Development Collaboration for a Sustainable Future" brought together key stakeholders with an aim to propel Bangladesh's green transition efforts to achieve SDGs.

Princess Victoria assumed the role of UNDP Goodwill Ambassador to advocate for the SDGs in October last year.

Masrur Reaz, Founder of Policy Exchange Bangladesh, presented the keynote paper on the private sector's role in Bangladesh's green transition.

Later, a panel discussion moderated by Prof Imran Rahman, vice chancellor of ULAB, explored publicprivate-development collaboration.

Panelists included Salman F Rahman, private industry and investment advisor to the prime minister; Johan Forssell, Swedish minister for international development cooperation and foreign trade; Ulrika Modeer, UN assistant secretary-general at UNDP and Sonia Bashir Kabir, founder of SBK Tech Ventures.

Sexual harassment and inadequate security are threatening the higher education og female students, leading to discontinuations, said speakers at a protest at Jatiya Press Club Auditorium vesterday.

Samaiik Pratirodh Committee, comprising 67 rights and non-government organisations, arranged the event, addressing recent harassment incidents in universities, including Jagannath University.

Shirin Akhter, founder of Karmojibi Nari, said, The government, administration, and Ministry of Women and Child Affairs should play a strong role to prevent harassment."

Shahnaz Sumi, director of Bangladesh Nari Pragati Sangha, stressed the need for an environment enabling victims to file complaints and receive counselling services.

Fauzia Moslem, president of Bangladesh Mahila Parishad, emphasised the importance of enforcing judicial processes and eradicating lawlessness from society.

Representatives from various organizations echoed these sentiments, including the Samajik Pratirodh Committee and the National Women's Alliance.

"Should I paint the vehicles?" he asked in reply. At yesterday's meeting, transport leaders tried to tell him rundown buses come from outside Dhaka. However, Quader said there are many workshops in the city where they paint such vehicles without fixing them.

"I have visited those and seen them painting such vehicles. But the paint comes off within 10 days, and the vehicles return to same condition," he said. "Vehicles' conditions in

The trio opposed withdrawing the complaint filed with the Labour Department, but the other worker was in favour of it, said Sivaranjani.

Sivaranjani also said the employer as well as police had likely threatened the workers to drop the complaints, but the workers refused, so they might have planned the incident to arrest the workers.
