POLLS WITHOUT SYMBOLS No need to amend the law: Tazul

Local Government, Rural Development, and Cooperatives Minister Tazul Islam yesterday said there is no need to amend the law to hold elections for upazila parishads and other local government bodies without party symbols.

Speaking at a seminar at the Dhaka Reporters Unity, he noted that the existing law allows parties to field their nominated candidates, who can contest the election without using party symbols.

The Reporters Forum for Election and Democracy (RFED) organised the seminar titled "Challenges in Strengthening Local Government System and the Role of Party Symbols in Elections".

Brig Gen (retd) Sakhawat Hussain, a former election commissioner, emphasised that local government elections were not initially intended to be held under party symbols. He argued that assigning party symbols to candidates centralises power within party leadership.

"Now the entire election system has become corrupted. The party symbol was introduced in local government elections to serve the interests of a party," he said.

Another former election commissioner, Kabita Khanam, suggested that changing the political culture is essential for making elections acceptable.

Badiul Alam Majumdar, secretary of Sushashoner Jonno Nagorik (Shujan), mentioned that the local government system has weakened due to "intervention by lawmakers and control by public administration".

Recognise the 1971 genocide

Speakers tell first council of 'Aamra Ekattor'

The new generation is stronger than the freedom fighters and will lead the country forward while preserving the pride, heritage, and heroism of the Liberation War, said Mahbub Zaman, chairperson of Aamra Ekattor, yesterday. He made the remarks at the first council of Aamra Ekattor, an organisation dedicated to upholding the spirit of the Liberation War, held in the capital.

Zaman said the pride, heritage, and heroism associated with the Liberation War and its victory will continue to grow stronger. To support this mission, "Aamra Ekattor" has been established to pass the national flag to the new generation. "Our slogan is 'Awaken in the spirit of '71, awaken others'," he added. During the inaugural ceremony, freedom fighter Hilal Foyezi, chief coordinator of Aamra Ekattor, gave the welcome speech.

Marking 53 years of independence, 53 freedom fighters were honoured by 53 young individuals who have excelled in fields such as literature, culture, sports, science, technology, and travel.

Speaking about the organisation's journey, Mahfuza Jasmine, a member of Aamra Ekattor, said, "Following the glorious path of our past and inspired by the ideals of the Liberation War, we started an informal journey. Our goal is to create a new awakening to build a non-communal, humane, and equitable Bangladesh."

Addressing the organisation's objectives, another member, Tamzid Siddiq Spondon, said one of their major goals is to achieve international recognition of the 1971 killings as "genocide".

He said they have already submitted a memorandum to the United Nations Secretary-General and are actively engaging in international seminars and various movements to pursue this goal.

Experience the essence of refinement with a lifestyle beyond comparison.

Need roadmap to meet renewable energy targets Speakers tell dialogue

DIPLOMATIC CORRESPONDENT

Bangladesh needs a clear roadmap to implement the renewable energy targets set by the government, said lawmakers and policy experts at a dialogue yesterday.

They said people in general have limited awareness on the importance of renewable energy, that will be critical in the days to come because of climate change impacts.

The observations came at a national dialogue organised by Bangladesh Enterprise Institute (BEI) at a city hotel.

The Bangladesh government aimed to generate 5 percent of its electricity from renewables by 2015 and 10 percent by 2020. However, as of June last year, this number is less than 5 percent.

The government has now set new targets, aiming to produce 15 percent of electricity from renewables by 2030, 40 percent by 2041 and 100 percent by 2050. SEE PAGE 4 COL 7

'WB loan for Rohingyas won't solve crisis' Speakers say it will make country more debt-ridden

DIPLOMATIC CORRESPONDENT

The World Bank loan that is being provided for projects involving Rohingyas and host communities means the country will be more debt-ridden, said civil society groups at a rally yesterday.

When there is no option but to repatriate the around one million Rohingyas in Cox's Bazar and Bhashanchar, the WB loan will intensify the crisis of Bangladesh, which is already debt-ridden, they said.

Nine civic and development organisations organised the human chain and rally in front of Jatiya Press Club.

Recently, Ecnec approved two projects involving Tk 8,483 crore. Here, WB will provide Tk 7,720 crore ($700 million) -- Tk 4,475 crore in loan and Tk 3,244

T crore in grants.

Civil society groups said there has been no repatriation in the last seven years, while funds for Rohingyas are also dwindling. The WB loan, instead of just grant, does not ensure justice for the people of Bangladesh.

Rezaul Karim Chowdhury, chief moderator of EquityBD, said, "When Bangladesh asked for assistance in the development of local communities affected by the Rohingya crisis, WB offered a loan. Since Bangladesh is not responsible for the Rohingya crisis, it must not take loans."

EquityBD Secretariat Coordinator Mustafa Kamal Akand said the per capita fund allocated for Rohingya population has already dropped from $12 to $8.
