theatrics," which people have no reason to trust," said TIB.

According to media, in the capital alone, over 200 cases have been filed indiscriminately against over 2,13,000 people in connection with violence in the movement, it said, adding that mass arrests are going on by law enforcement agencies.

TIB Executive Director Iftekharuzzaman said it is unethical and an abhorrent crime to force the coordinators of the movement to read out a statement in a video message to give up protests while under detention, reading out a statement is a following "abductions" in violation of Article 35(4) of the ridiculous pretext of "providing safety."

"From what we have seen in the media, there are sufficient grounds to be concerned that the coordinators were under duress after abduction and torture under detention,' he added. Moreover, there is no legal basis for "abduction or detention for safety", he added.

"Abducting detaining students for their role in a fully non-political and peaceful movement for genuine rights is a clear violation of Article 33 of the constitution. Similarly, coercing the coordinators to call off protests by the DB headquarters under the constitution," he said.

"As I screamed, some people rushed in and took us to two private hospitals nearby, but neither admitted my son for treatment. Then my nephew Pavel managed an ambulance to take us to Dhaka Medical College Hospital. By the time we reached the hospital, Akash had bled to death. My son asked me to save him, but I could not..."

Akram broke down as he recounted the events to this correspondent over phone. Akram, 45, his wife Laili Begum, 35, and their daughter Fahima Sultana Ankhi, a 10th grader, are struggling to cope with their loss.

Akash, the eldest of three siblings, had joined his father in selling fruits in Dhaka after failing Secondary School Certificate test exams last year. His younger brother Adnan, 5, is a first grader at a local madrasa.

"The headteacher of Akash's school demanded

Tk 10,000 to fill up his registration form for the SSC examination, but I could not manage the money. So, Akash left his studies and moved to Dhaka around six months ago to help me sell fruits." Akram said.

Since the boy's death, his mother has been in an unstable condition, fainting frequently and unable to eat or drink.

"My son was innocent. He would never leave the house without asking me He did not even chat with others in the area. My husband is a poor man. We live in someone else's house; we don't have our own home," Laili said.

Akash's sister Fahima added, "My brother could not even appear in the SSC exam. There is no reason for him to join the anti-quota movement. I want justice for my brother's death."

Echoing her, Akram demanded, "I want those who shot my innocent son to be identified, brought to justice, and punished."
