as the prime minister for 21 years. You left the country willingly, no one asked you and to do so... we all respect you." Shakti, said,

He, however, warned that there would be no gain in stirring up trouble and rather it would only agitate people further.

Sakhawat said after the fall of Jatiyo Party leader HM Ershad, he was given the option to either leave the country or go to jail. Ershad chose to go to jail and thus saved his party.

Coming back to AL, he said, "It is a big party. I have a lot of respect for the party, which used to belong to the middle class secular people."

"The leader of such a great party [Bangabandhu Sheikh Mujibur Rahman] led this country to independence. There is no doubt about it. No one should have doubts... This party had collapsed in such a way that the leaders and workers had to go into hiding."

Mentioning that around 400 to 500 people from all sides including police and Ansar were killed, he said, "We don't want anymore deaths."

Pointing at AL, he further said, "Don't do this. I am requesting you not to be manipulated by someone. Don't ruin this party for personal gain. This was Bangabandhu's dream, you have no right to destroy it. It is the property of Bangladesh."

"If you dream that you will come back with a counter revolution, that would require the blood of thousands of people. If you want to take that responsibility, then I have nothing to do."

The adviser said the students, not any political parties, were behind the revolution which toppled Hasina's regime.

"They have given their lives, which you could never have done -- standing in front of a police officer's gun. They have no regrets. They [the youth] will confront you [the counter-revolutionaries]. Please keep the country independent."

When asked about armed Awami League members carrying firearms and opening fire on protesters, Sakhawat responded, "I don't know about any league. Prohibited firearms were not supposed to be outside. Only the police and Rab were authorised to use these rifles. How did these firearms end up in civilian hands?'

"I saw another video of a civilian youth carrying a 7.62mm rifle and walking away. That means the rifle was not returned," he said.

"These rifles are missing," he said, urging everyone to hand over unauthorised firearms to the nearest police station

by August 19. THE RULES OF ENGAGEMENT

Earlier, Inspector General of Police Mainul Islam said action would be taken against police officials who deaths, including students. did not follow the accepted and violated human rights, as per police regulations.

The junior cops also demanded a trial against superiors, and a lawful inquiry about the use of firearms and bullets during the protests.

"We are taking action as per legal rules," the IGP told The Daily Star on Sunday night.

According to police protocol, officers are first supposed to ask a large gathering to disperse by blowing whistles.

If this does not work, they are to attempt to push the crowd away.

If that also fails, police can use batons. The next step is to use tear gas, and if that proves ineffective, they are instructed to fire blanks. If the police believe their lives are in danger, they are permitted to shoot; however, there is no provision for firing a gun at an unarmed person, according to a police official citing the protocol.

Despite this, the police's excessive use of force against students and ordinary citizens has resulted in over 400
