

PHOTO: SAZZAD IBNE SAYED Mirpur Beribadh.

PHOTO: SHADAB SHAHROKH HAI

5 things that make

ASHIF AHMED RUDRO

Dhaka is basically divided into a few "general areas". These areas refer to a larger neighbourhood that are recognised by the same name. For example – the Mirpur area might refer to the whole of Mirpur-1 through 12. Like every other neighbourhood in the city, there are a few perks of living in Mirpur.

Here are 5 things that make Mirpur special.

The Stadium

The Sher-e-Bangla National Cricket Stadium is one of the most popular places in the city. Being a nation with fervent zeal for cricket, people are more than eager to be here. Whenever there's a match, the surrounding neighbourhoods light up with the buzz. Besides the main attraction of cricket, the stadium comes with the added benefit of a stadium market that draws people in search of furniture.

National Zoo

Located on one side of Mirpur, the National Zoo is the largest zoo in the country, boasting an array of animals zoo is a point of interest for everyone. With two lakes within its huge premises, it's no wonder this is a popular place, not only to local residents, but to people all over the country. Whatever mood you are in, the zoological diversity and the open sky will surely make it a soothing experience.

PHOTO: PALASH KHAN

Book market in Mirpur

Face of Nature

It's not just the zoo, there are more places around Mirpur that can offer you a respite from your metropolitan life. With the river Turag flowing right where one may get a glimpse of nature, something that has become quite rare in Dhaka. The Mirpur Beribadh is one such place that stands on the bank of the river with a spectacular view. If you just cross the road, you can find yourself in the Botanical Garden, a place not only soothing but also educational for those who are interested.

PHOTO: SHADAB SHAHROKH HAI

Love Road in Mirpur

Lively Hangout Places

Perhaps one of the most important factors about any neighbourhood is how friendly and accommodating and species. Children or adults alike, the beside Mirpur, there are plenty of places it is. Mirpur offers both with the numerous hangout places it offers. The most popular hangout place in the neighbourhood under open sky has to be Love Road. Street food, music and youth — all these make it a lively experience. There's Mirpur-1 for those who are looking to window shop or catch a movie or just roam around and grab a cup of coffee.

Book Market

The second-hand book market in Mirpur is one of few such markets in Dhaka. Starting from the stadium gate, it expands towards Mirpur-10 roundabout and sometimes, stray shops are spotted even beyond that. With a large collection and affordable price, it's the place to be if you are interested in books. With effort and time, one can even find antique books here as well. And of course, academic books.

Of course, there are more interesting places in Mirpur, such as the Benaroshi Polli, Shaheed Suhrawardi Indoor Stadium, Currency Museum etc. For locals to just sit back and take it easy for a day or for visitors to roam around, Mirpur is a great place.

Production shuts chain, he added.

Mahbubul Karim, executive director of Incepta Pharmaceuticals, said, "We did not open our factory to avoid an untoward incident amid the protests."

He added that several discussions between the management and the workers yielded no result because the workers want their demands met by 24 hours.

Zahangir Alam, chief financial officer at Square Pharmaceuticals, production units of the company had been closed since Saturday as the "workers do not listen to requests".

He added that the demands that are logical would be met.

Square Pharmaceuticals employs 1,000 casual and 6,000 regular workers, he

A team of Bangladesh Association

Pharmaceutical Industries led by its president Abdul Muktadir met the advisers of home affairs, industries, and health and sought their cooperation to solve the crisis.

A top official of Popular Pharmaceuticals said his company had promised to regularise all of its 300 casual workers.

He added that the sudden demand for raises and perks was an indication that a quarter had instigated the workers who seemed to be content before.

Workers of a shoe, a ceramic, and a several garment demonstrated in Savar and Gazipur, blocking highways yesterday. The authorities closed at least 10 garment factories in Ashulia and Savar. Workers of GAB Limited, Snowtex, Starling Group Apparel, NASA Apparels, and Acme Agrovet & Consumers Ltd blocked the Nabinagar-Chandra highway and began demonstrating 9:00am, said Mohammad Sarwar Alam, superintendent of Ashulia Industrial Police.

Some of the protesters said they wanted bonuses, lunch allowance, and an end to termination of workers.

Several workers of GAB Limited said authorities closed the factory without saying whether the demands would be met.

"We will continue the protests unless they comply with the demands," said one of them, requesting anonymity.

In Gazipur, long tailbacks formed as workers blocked Dhaka-Mymensingh highway at three places. The highway was blocked for two hours in the morning. The workers of Bata shoes blocked the road in the Station Road area, People's Ceramics in Targachh, and Anant Casual Limited in Chandana.

The workers demanded regularisation, better pay, and medical allowance.

SC to hear Jamaat

FROM PAGE 12

He told The Daily Star that the Appellate Division earlier dismissed Jamaat's appeal against the High Court verdict without holding a complete hearing.

"If the Appellate Division on October 21 restores the appeal, then a complete hearing will be held before it on the merit of the appeal. If this court allows the appeal after hearing on it, Jamaat-e-Islami will get back its registration with the Election Commission and will participate in the hearing yesterday.

elections."

On November 19 last year, a five-member bench of the Appellate Division headed by the then Chief Justice Óbaidul Hassan dismissed Jamaat's appeal for "default" as its counsels did not appear before the court on that day.

Jamaat had filed the appeal against the HC verdict that scrapped its registration with the EC on August 1, 2023.

Lawyers Shishir Manir and Md Matiur Rahman Akanda appeared for Jamaat during the Patients suffer as doctors strike

if a law enforcer protected today. every doctor.

The trouble Islam Ahsanul 24-year-old engineering student at the Bangladesh University of Business and Technology (BUBT), died from road crash injuries.

A doctor at DMCH was assaulted by some students who accused physicians of being negligent.

The same night, a group of people attacked an injured person inside DMCH after a clash between two groups in the Khilgaon-Sepahibagh area.

In response, DMCH doctors issued a 24-hour ultimatum for identifying punishing the attackers. They threatened a complete shutdown of the hospital if their demands were not met.

Emergency services at DMCH resumed around 7:30pm yesterday after Health Adviser Nurjahan Begum said the attackers would be arrested within two days and brought to justice. She also assured the doctors of taking measures for workplace safety. After a meeting with the adviser, the doctors announced that they would resume emergency services only if armed law enforcers excruciating pain. I feel shadow every doctor at shutdown" would be guns and agreed to provide reinstated if their demands not afford to take his son to MEETING only emergency services were not met by 8:00pm a private hospital.

They said they would and that the "complete puller.

the attacks; deployment of armed law enforcers to protect doctors in every hospital within 24 hours; appointment of health turned away as well. police under the DGHS within seven days; and returned to Satkhira. implementation of the health protection laws.

SUFFERINGS Medical services and treatment at DMCH were halted around 10:00am. The counters for getting tickets, required to see a doctor, were closed. But ambulances carrying patients continued to arrive. They were turned away.

Patients who travelled from various parts of the country were departments from the emergency department but did not get any treatment. Among them was Rezaul Karim, 11, a class-IV student leg was gangrenous. Rezaul was seen lying on the floor of the outpatient department while his family desperately sought emergency surgery, but the treatment.

without treatment," said continue their strike father and a rickshaw- offices, but they did not

The doctors demand a critical neurosurgery Satkhira. After not getting any help at DMCH, her family took her to another hospital where she was

The family eventually happened "What between the doctors and the patient's friends could resolved, but now we are suffering. If this patient dies, who will be held responsible?" said Mohammad Ali, Nahar's husband.

"I had to pay Tk 20,000 for the ambulance, and my wife is now returning home without receiving treatment," he said. This correspondent visited the female ward unaware of the strike. They of the neurosurgery rushed to the outpatient department three times between 1:00pm and 5:00pm. There several patients in critical condition there.

Some family members from Barishal, whose right alleged that nurses were not administering injections or giving the patients pills. "My wife has brain haemorrhage and needs doctor has not come. The doctor prescribed some to the ward. I went to other Shaheen Farazi, Rezaul's wards and the nurses'

Shaheen said he could husband around 5:00pm.

Coordinators of the Anti-Khairun Nahar, 53, discrimination Student Movement, Sarjis Alam and began immediate arrest and patient with brain and Hasnat Abdullah, went to Saturday night when exemplary punishment spinal issues, was referred the DMCH and had talks Dipto, of the accused involved in to the DMCH from with doctors in presence of DMCH Director Brig Gen Asaduzzaman around 3:00pm.

Around 45 minutes later, the health adviser reached DMCH and had a separate meeting with a different group of doctors.

Before leaving, Hasnat told journalists, "We met the doctors to facilitate the immediate resumption of emergency services. However, the doctors remain firm on their demands ... We have requested the health adviser to resolve the issue."

After the meeting with the health adviser, DMCH director said the hospital would resume medical activities, including treatment at the emergency, casualty, and neurosurgery departments.

He said members of the army, police, BGB, and Ansar would be deployed round-the-clock to ensure the security of the doctors.

Speaking reporters, Abdul Ahad, resident surgeon of the Neurosurgery Department at the DMCH, said the shutdown would continue, but emergency services medication and injections would be provided only if helpless seeing him suffer for her, but no nurse came every doctor was assigned a law enforcer to protect them.

He said there would show up," said a patient's be no outpatient services but ICU and HDU services would continue.

"If the criminals who attacked doctors are not arrested ... within the next at 8:00pm on Monday [today]," he said.

"The hospitals, medical centres, and routine services across the country will be suspended for the next seven days. During this time, our four-point demand, including the protection of doctors, must be met. We will only resume outpatient and routine services once our demands are met," Ahad said.

At a briefing at the Secretariat earlier, Adviser Nurjahan Begum assured doctors that stern action would be taken against those involved in assaulting doctors at the DMCH. She said two separate investigation committees had been formed.

She also urged the doctors to end their work abstention for the sake of the patients.

As of 2:00pm yesterday, a total of 2,941 people were undergoing treatment at the DMCH. Between 1,100 and 1,200 people typically visit the emergency department for critical care, while over 3,000 people visit the outpatient department for medical services.

There were army and BGB personnel at DMCH since yesterday evening.

Beximco laundered

of the value, said Md

bring back the export proceeds, the loan remains

"Beximco laundered money through this way," he added.

the CID financial crime unit said they have found primary information that Rahman laundered the money and invested in real estate in different countries including Dubai, Singapore and the UK.

The group first opened a the funds of that company in Saudi Arabia went from > Once investigation is complete, Dewan said.

During the primary investigation, the CID's financial crime unit found Beximco Group has been accused of fraudulently taking loans from seven banks in the last 15 years. Of the loans, Tk 5,218 crore was taken from IFIC Bank, whose chairman is Rahman himself.

sprawling The conglomerate took at least Tk 21,681 crore from principal branch of the state-run Janata report. Bank, according to a CID official involved with the investigation.

Beximco also took Tk killing of a shop employee.

investigation. And most of Bank; Tk 5,671 crore from Sonali, Agrani and Rupali; and Tk 605 crore from AB Bank, according to CID's the primary primary data. The CID's 24 hours, the complete Moniruzzaman, inspector a case would be filed under crime unit has sent teams shutdown will resume of the CID financial crime the Money Launder Act to the seven banks to against Beximco Group, collect their database, said its special superintendent Mohammad Basir Uddin. CID's investigation found that Rahman is accused of laundering the loans abroad in the name of various companies of Beximco Group.

There are also allegations that in the last three years around Tk 6,600 crore has been taken from the market visibly and Tk 20,000 crore embezzled through fraud and forgery, reads the CID primary investigation

Rahman has been in police custody since August 13 in a case filed over the

Govt asks all its staffers to submit wealth statements

FROM PAGE 1

Although this procedure regulations to combat corruption and ensure accountability, compliance has often been lacking.

On August 25, Chief Adviser to the interim government, Muhammad Yunus, in his address to the nation said, "Government employees should regularly submit their wealth statements."

"All our advisers will publish their asset details as soon as possible. Regular asset disclosure will be made mandatory for all government servants," he added.

Talking to The Daily Star,

Mohidul Islam, additional secretary (rules wing) of the public administration ministry, said government employees must submit an account of their assets, including their families and dependents, as He, however, said, "A process to amend the said the section.

existing rules is underway to make them stricter. But is part of the conduct for now, the government employees to submit their wealth statement following the existing rules."

According to section 13 (1) of Government Servant Conduct Rules-1979, every government servant shall, on entering service, hand over to the government, through proper authority, immovable property, including shares, certificates, securities, insurance policies, and ornaments of a total value of Tk 50,000 or more owned by him or his family members. They will have to mention the name of the district in which the property is located, disclose details on each type of ornament worth over Tk 50,000, and provide any other information if required by the government through general or special orders,

However, the existing rule does not apply to the subordinates of railways, will have metropolitan police, and lower ranks of police and border guards.

There are around 15 lakh civil servants currently working in the country.

Feroz Mia, a former additional secretary of the public administration ministry, told The Daily Star that an example must first info on all movable and be made by submitting the accounts of the secretaries of the government to the administration. "Then others will be encouraged to follow suit,' he said. The 1979 rules initially mandated the submission of asset accounts every vear. Since the rules were not followed, it was amended in 2002 with a provision of submitting wealth accounts every five

This too is not being implemented, officials of the public administration ministry.

Drive begins to recover illegal arms on Sept 4 Md Kamrul Ahsan, then within the timeframe are working to update the said, "We are giving priority additional deputy inspector to avoid legal action.

licences of weapons issued to civilians over the last 15 years -- January 6, 2009, and August 5, 2024 during the Awami League

Yesterday, the ministry asked the authorities to inform the licence bearers through text messages for submission of the firearms, and ammunition to their nearby police stations.

(confidential) September 3 [tomorrow]."

He asked the owners requesting

According to sources of Police Headquarters, in the Special Branch of within a day or two." told The Daily Star police, they have a database yesterday, "The firearms of 50,310 gun owners. over to police stations by issued during the AL rule.

anonymity, of the weapons to submit told this newspaper, "We additional DIG of PHQ, stun grenades.

database and are hopeful to recovering the looted of completing the work 3,880 weapons of various

Yesterday in a directive, the PHQ announced with suspended licences However, the officials are that all firearms and will be considered illegal yet to get the actual figure ammunition looted from if these are not handed of how many licences were police stations during the recent violence must be A top SB official, returned by tomorrow.

Kamrul

guns" As of yesterday, a total of types, looted from police stations and offices, during the recent unrest, have been recovered. In addition, law enforcers have recovered 2,86,353 bullets, 22,201 per the existing rules. Ahsan, teargas canisters, and 2,139 letter of credit for exporting goods and then took a loan Bangladesh, he said. locally against 80 percent unit. As the group did not unpaid.

Another official

Rahman's son, Ahmed Shayan Fazlur Rahman, has opened a large pharmaceutical company in Saudi Arabia, said a CID official involved with the