Steps to be taken to bring Hasina back for trial

Says chief ICT prosecutor

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Necessary steps would be taken to extradite former prime minister Sheikh Hasina from India, in order to put her on trial for alleged mass killings during the student-led protests in July and August, said Md Tajul Islam, newly appointed chief prosecutor for the International Crimes Tribunal.

"We will file an application with the International Crimes Tribunal, once it resumes, to issue arrest warrants against all absconding accused, including Sheikh Hasina, in connection with the cases filed for mass killing and crimes against humanity," he said yesterday at a press briefing on the ICT premises in Dhaka.

Tajul said an extradition treaty exists between Bangladesh and India, signed during Hasina's tenure in 2013.

"I believe she (Hasina) will be the main accused in the genocide in Bangladesh. She has been accused in most of the cases, and we will pursue her extradition through legal processes," he said.

JULY-AUGUST MOVEMENT 631 lives lost, 19,200 injured

SAJJAD HOSSAIN

At least 631 people lost their lives and over 19,200 were injured during the anti-discrimination students' movement from July 15 to August 5, according to a health ministry report.

The report said over 450 people were brought dead, while 181 individuals succumbed to their injuries while undergoing treatment during the course of 21 days.

The health ministry formed the committee on August 15 to compile a comprehensive list of casualties. The committee submitted its report to the ministry on Thursday.

Among the injured, over 16,000 have received treatment from government hospitals across the country, while around 3,000 have been treated in private facilities.

Muhammad Humayun Kabir, former senior secretary of the health service division and head of the committee, said, "Collecting data from private hospitals is challenging as they don't strictly preserve data as government hospitals do. In some cases, victims' family members hid registry entries out of fear."

Ministry officials said the current draft list, which is undergoing data cleaning by ministry officials, will be made public on the website, where additional information may be updated.

According to the report, a significant portion of the injured individuals received treatment in government hospitals.

However, no information has been provided to the government regarding those

SIFAYET ULLAH, Ctg

Cutter-man Sahab Uddin died after falling from a scrap ship at a shipbreaking yard in Chattogram's Sitakunda upazila on May 29 last year.

He fell while cutting an iron plate without a safety belt at Four-Star shipbreaking yard.

"We were working without safety belts as the yard owner didn't provide us with any gear. Sahab would not have died if he had been wearing a belt," said Mohammed Ali, a colleague of the deceased.

In 2023, there were 35 accidents in the shipbreaking sector, resulting in seven deaths and 28 injuries, according to reports from several government and non-governmental organisations.

Workers continue to be killed or injured by explosions, falls, falling objects, and burns due to the absence of proper safety equipment and unsafe working conditions.

The recent explosion at SN Corporation's yard in Shitalpur on Saturday which killed one so far and injured 11 others further highlight the persistent lack of safety measures in the sector.

Tapan Dutta, convener of the Shipbreaking Workers' Trade Union Forum, said, "Most shipyard owners are still not providing safety equipment to workers, putting their lives at risk."

Shipbreaking yards in Chattogram span a 10km stretch along the seashore in Sitakunda and Mirsarai.
