

DHAKA THURSDAY SEPTEMBER 26, 2024

SECOND EDITION

REGD. NO. DA 781

VOL. XXXIV No. 244

ASHWIN II, 1431 BS

www.thedailystar.net

RABIUL AWAL 22, 1446 HIJRI

20 PAGES PLUS RISING STAR : TK 15.00

Interim govt speeds up Adani payments
B1

Ctg sees surge in dengue cases, P5

India allows foreign diplomats to observe J&K polls P10

Shakib available, but concerns lie with batters P15

We unpublished (03/10/2024) this story for factual errors by Rupali Bank on which our story was Chief Adviser Muhammad Yunus introduces Mahfuj Alam and Aysha Siddique Tithi, coordinators of the Anti-Discrimination Student Movement, to the audience at an event of the Clinton Global Initiative at New York's Hilton hotel on Tuesday. Former US president Bill Clinton is seen applauding.

PHOTO: PID

NOTICE

Following our story headlined "S Alam nexus laundered $815 million through two LCs" published on September 26, 2024, we received two rejoinders – one from SS Power Limited and one from Rupali Bank. Over the last few days, we have reviewed the official data that we used in our report and have now reasons to believe that some of those official data need further examination. We have also received an official confirmation from Rupali Bank that its officials inadvertently uploaded wrong invoice numbers and dates related to these LCs at least 46 times in their reporting to Bangladesh Bank, which led us to our conclusion about money laundering by SS Power. We are still reviewing our original report, both the rejoinders and Rupali Bank's admission of wrong data entry on the central bank server. At this point, we are unpublishing (03/10/2024) the report from all our electronic platforms until we fully resolve the issue as per journalistic norms, which we will do at the earliest. Thank you.

The Daily Star

DIPLOMATIC CORRESPONDENT

Chief Adviser Prof Muhammad Yunus has sought support from foreign friends for Bangladesh's new journey towards a happy and prosperous future.

"Our job is to clean it up and reform it. We need to make a good start. We need the support from all of you to make that happen," he said while addressing a reception on the sidelines of the UN General Assembly (UNGA) at the UN headquarters on Tuesday evening (New York time), reports UNB.

He said the interim government does not want to miss the opportunity to build a new Bangladesh.

Around 200 representatives of countries and territories attending the UNGA was at the event hosted by Bangladesh marking the 50th anniversary of the country's UN membership.

Prof Yunus and renowned photographer Shahidul Alam jointly unveiled two books that depict events of the student-led mass uprising, which led to the fall of Awami League regime after 15 years in power.

Recalling the sacrifices made by the students and people during the uprising, Prof Yunus said the people are united today. "We don't want to disappoint them."

He said the students invited him to lead the interim government until the elections are held following reforms. "It is a very significant year for us..."

At an event of the Clinton Global Initiative 2024, Prof Yunus shared the stage with former US president Bill Clinton where he introduced two young people, including his special assistant and lauded their role during the uprising.

With Clinton standing beside him, Prof Yunus said, "It is amazing...the way they speak, the language I have never heard. They speak about the world, they speak about the country, they want to

SEE PAGE 2 COL 5

Help build a new Bangladesh

Yunus urges foreign friends at UN to support country's new journey

IMF to provide more loans on a fast track

Yunus tells its MD polls date after consensus over reforms

REJAUL KARIM BYRON

The International Monetary Fund (IMF) has assured the interim government of providing more loans on a "fast-track" basis as Bangladesh expects $3 billion from the global lender.

IMF Managing Director Kristalina Georgieva on Tuesday met with Chief Adviser Professor Muhammad Yunus in New York on the sidelines of the United Nations General Assembly.

She said the IMF "would fast-track financial support for the government", according to a media release from the Chief Adviser's Office.

She said she had sent a team to Bangladesh "quickly" and it was now in Dhaka at the moment. The team will place its report with the IMF management board next month, according to the release.

Georgieva also said the IMF board could initiate a new lending programme for Bangladesh, based on the report of the team or it could also extend the existing loan programme launched early last year, the release added.

A four-member IMF team led by its Mission Chief Chris Papageorgiou reached Dhaka on Tuesday for preliminary discussions on the loan proposal and will stay until September 30.

In January last year, the global lender

SEE PAGE 2 COL 5

ARMY CHIEF'S REMARK ON DEMOCRATIC TRANSITION

Political parties give cautious, mixed reaction

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Emphasising the importance of patience, politicians have expressed mixed reactions to the remark by Army Chief General Waker-uz-Zaman that the transition to democracy should occur between one and one and a half years.

They, however, viewed the army chief's pledge to support the interim government in any situation as a positive sign.

Waker made the comments in an interview with Reuters, published on Tuesday.

BNP Standing Committee member Khandaker Mosharrif Hossain said the army chief talked about democratic transition within 18 months, but this could be done in a shorter time.

He said that his party has given time to the interim government to implement reforms, including restoring people's voting right.

"We believe that if the interim government is sincere, they can do it promptly. So, we don't want to set any specific time frame for the government."

About the chief of army staff's commitment to stand by the interim government, Mosharrif said the army stood by the mass uprising that led to the fall of Sheikh Hasina's government.

"The army played a role in establishing the interim government. That's why I believe the army has been

SEE PAGE 7 COL 5

A wide trench has been dug and construction materials have been kept on the 60-feet Road in Mirpur for building a stormwater drain, putting road users in danger and difficulty. The photo was taken near Monipur School and College yesterday.

PHOTO: PRABIR DAS

HSC results by mid-Oct

Grades for cancelled exams to be based on SSC performance

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

The results of this year's Higher Secondary Certificate (HSC) and equivalent exams will be finalised through subject mapping, where marks for six cancelled exams will be calculated based on students' results from the Secondary School Certificate (SSC) and equivalent exams.

For subjects where exams were conducted, the answer sheets will be evaluated based on the full marks for those subjects, said Prof Tapan Kumar Sarker, president of the Inter-Education Board Coordination Committee yesterday.

The HSC results are expected to be published by mid-October, he added.

This year's HSC exams, which began on June 30, were disrupted due to deadly violence during the quota reform protests.

SEE PAGE 7 COL 4