

India to buy 31 armed drones from US

REUTERS, New Delhi

India yesterday signed a deal with the US State Department to buy 31 armed MQ-9B SkyGuardian and SeaGuardian High Altitude Long Endurance (HALE) drones, the South Asian nation's defence ministry said.

The deal follows talks that began in 2018. It is expected to significantly increase India's surveillance and intelligence capabilities and is in line with US efforts to coax India away from buying Russian military equipment and counter China's growing dominance.

India's apex defence body approved the procurement last year just before Prime Minister Narendra Modi's state visit to Washington, while the Pentagon approved it in February.

The drones will be predominantly used by the navy in the Indian Ocean Region, Reuters reported last year.

SCO SUMMIT Indian FM in Pakistan on rare visit

REUTERS, Islamabad

Indian Foreign Minister Subrahmanyam Jaishankar arrived in Pakistan yesterday in the first such visit in almost a decade for a meeting of governments of the Shanghai Cooperation Organisation (SCO), with the capital city under tight lockdown.

Jaishankar was among nearly a dozen leaders participating in the gathering in Islamabad, culminating with the main event today.

It has been nearly a decade since a foreign minister from Pakistan's arch-rival India has visited amid frosty relations between the two nuclear powers.

Both sides have said no bilateral meeting is planned. The meeting of the SCO, a Eurasian security and political group formed in 2001 by Russia and China, is the highest-profile event hosted by the troubled South Asian nation in years.

Chinese Premier Li Qiang is already in Pakistan, while seven more prime ministers of other member and observer states, including Russia's Mikhail Mishustin, were also due to participate in person.

Hezbollah aims to inflict pain on Israel

Says its deputy chief, calls for ceasefire; the Iran-backed group, Israel trade rocket fire

REUTERS, Beirut

Hezbollah's deputy secretary general Naim Qassem said yesterday his group has adopted "a new calculation" to inflict pain on Israel, even as he called for a ceasefire.

"The solution is a ceasefire, we are not speaking from a position of weakness," Qassem said. "If the Israelis do not want that, we will continue," he added in a broadcast speech.

Qassem said that residents of northern Israel would be able to return home after a ceasefire deal is reached through an indirect agreement.

But he threatened that more Israelis will be displaced if the war continues, saying that "the number of uninhabited settlements will increase, and hundreds of thousands, even more than two million, will be in danger at any time, at any hour, on any day".

He added that since Israel has attacked all over Lebanon, the group has the right to attack anywhere in Israel. "We will focus on targeting the Israeli military and its centres and barracks," he said.

Meanwhile, Hezbollah launched a barrage of rockets towards the northern Israeli city of Haifa yesterday, as the Israel Defense Forces (IDF) bombed south and east Lebanon. It also downed an Israeli drone, without saying where.

Israel expanded its targets in its war with Hezbollah and ordered residents of 25 villages in southern Lebanon to evacuate to areas north of the Awali River, which flows some 60 km north of the Israeli frontier.

The Israeli military said about 115 projectiles fired by Hezbollah crossed from Lebanon into Israel on Monday. At least 21 people killed in an Israeli airstrike in the north, Lebanese health officials said, while millions of Israelis took shelter from projectiles fired back across the border.

As five UN peacekeepers suffered injuries from Israeli strikes in southern Lebanon, UN peacekeeping chief Jean-Pierre Lacroix said on Monday that the peacekeepers will stay in all positions in Lebanon despite Israeli calls for them to move.

The Middle East remains on high alert for Israel to retaliate against Iran for an October 1 barrage of missiles launched in response to Israel's assaults on Lebanon.

Cash-strapped Maldives slashes govt appointees

AFP, Male

The Maldives president has sacked more than 225 political appointees, including ministers, in a bid to reduce the cash-strapped Indian Ocean nation's expenditure, his office said yesterday.

Mohamed Muizzu ordered the removal of those he appointed after coming to power last year as the small but strategically located nation struggles to stave off a debt crisis.

"This significant reduction in political appointments aligns with the president's broader efforts to streamline government operations and ensure more efficient use of public funds," a statement from Muizzu's office said.

Among those sacked were seven state ministers, 43 deputy ministers and 178 political directors. It was not clear what functions they performed in the tiny nation of about half a million people.

The statement did not say how many more political appointees remained in the administration but added that the mass reduction of staff would save the country about $370,000 a month.

The Maldives said in September its financial troubles were "temporary" and that it had no plans to seek an International Monetary Fund bailout despite warnings of a possible sovereign default.

Known as a luxury holiday destination, the Maldives has also become a geopolitical hotspot.

Delhi's actions 'unacceptable'

Canada PM slams India as tensions soar over Sikh separatist murder

AFP, Ottawa

Canada's Prime Minister Justin Trudeau on Monday accused India of making a "fundamental error," as an escalating row over the killing of a Sikh separatist on Canadian soil last year saw both countries expel each other's ambassadors.

A grave Trudeau branded New Delhi's actions as "unacceptable" during a press conference in Ottawa on the diplomatic expulsions, which saw tensions reach a new height after the 2023 murder of Canadian citizen Hardeep Singh Nijjar.

Trudeau has previously said there were "credible allegations" linking Indian intelligence services to the killing. Both countries have traded barbs since then, culminating with the expulsions Monday of each other's ambassadors and five other top diplomats in both countries.

"The government of India made a fundamental error in thinking that they could engage in supporting criminal activity against Canadians here on Canadian soil, whether it be murders or extortion or other violent acts," Trudeau told reporters in Ottawa, hours after the expulsions were announced.

"We will never tolerate the involvement of a foreign government threatening and killing Canadian citizens on Canadian soil, a deeply unacceptable violation of Canada's sovereignty and of international law," he said.

MYANMAR CONFLICT Armed group claims capture of another town

AFP, Bangkok

Fighters from a Myanmar ethnic armed group have seized another town along a strategic highway to China, the group and a resident said, in the latest setback for the embattled junta.

Northern Shan state has been rocked with fighting since the summer when an alliance of ethnic armed groups renewed an offensive against the military along the highway to China's Yunnan province.

The Ta'ang National Liberation Army (TNLA) captured the last remaining military base in the town of Hsipaw on Sunday after weeks of fighting, a spokesperson for the group told AFP Monday. "We took all army bases and there is no more Myanmar army in the town," Lway Yay Oo said.

Hsipaw is normally home to about 20,000 people and sits on a highway from Myanmar's second city Mandalay to the China border, along which hundreds of millions of dollars of trade travels annually.

A Hsipaw resident who did not want to be named told AFP Tuesday that TNLA fighters had taken control of the town on Sunday.

We see now what is probably the worst restrictions we've seen on humanitarian aid, ever.

AFGHAN PROVINCE Two TV channels stop showing living things

AFP, Kabul

At least two TV channels in a northern Afghan province stopped showing images of living beings during their broadcasts, journalists told AFP yesterday, in line with orders from morality police.

The Ministry for the Propagation of Virtue and the Prevention of Vice (PVPV) said on Monday it had started gradually implementing a law banning news media from using photos and videos of things with souls -- meaning people and animals.

The rules are part of legislation recently announced by Afghanistan's Taliban government formalising their strict interpretations of Islamic law imposed since they swept to power in 2021.

An AFP journalist in Takhar province said the private Mah-e-Naw channel showed only its logo along with audio broadcast yesterday evening.

State broadcaster RTA showed national programming, which continues to show people and animals, instead of the usual evening provincial news.

PVPV officials, who refused to give their names, told AFP yesterday that all news media in Takhar have been banned from taking images of and broadcasting living things.

Journalists in Takhar, who did not want to be identified, said provincial broadcasters had restricted their output after a meeting called by the PVPV on Sunday. "PVPV ordered all the Takhar regional (television) media that after the meeting they can do radio reports but cannot use visuals," that include living things, or they would face legal action, one reporter told AFP.
