Message

On the auspicious occasion of the 2nd convocation of BGMEA University of Fashion & Technology (BUFT), I extend my warm felicitations to the graduating students, their parents and the university authorities.

In this age of globalization, quality education is a prerequisite for the development of a society and the nation. As the apex institution for higher education, universities should equip students with knowledge, skills, and values as well as develop their creative ingenuity to help them propel toward a bright future. I hope, BUFT will undertake appropriate initiatives to ensure quality education for students, preparing them as competent and confident in facing the evolving challenges of the millennium.

I recall with gratitude the contribution and sacrifices of students from all educational institutions, including BUFT, during the July - August uprising. The courage, unity and resilience demonstrated by the students were truly commendable. I urge all to uphold the spirit of this uprising and work together to realize the vision of a knowledge-based, equitable and just society.

YOUNGONE
Convocation Speaker

Message

On behalf of Youngone Corporation, I warmly congratulate BGMEA University of Fashion & Technology (BUFT) on its 2nd Convocation in 2025. It is an honor to attend this milestone event as the convocation speaker.

Bangladesh holds a special place in my heart, with a connection spanning over 45 years. Youngone was the first foreign investor in the RMG sector, pioneering female employment and contributing to the industry's growth, which now accounts for 81% of the country's export earnings. As the industry evolves, there's a growing need for sustainability, technological advancement, and high-value products.

Youngone has been part of the Man-Made Fiber (MMF) supply chain for over 25 years. Our new MMF Hub in the Korean EPZ, with five factories totalling 2 million sq. ft., will strengthen backward linkages and reduce import dependency. We're also committed to sustainability—developing eco-friendly zones, installing 40 MW of rooftop solar power (expanding to 60 MW), planting 2.7 million trees, and creating 32 water bodies for rainwater harvesting.

BUFT will shape Bangladesh's RMG future by nurturing skilled professionals. I invite BUFT graduates to join Youngone and enhance the global apparel market.

Congratulations and best wishes for BUFT's success.
