Son of late Taliban doyen injured

REUTERS, Peshawar

A bomb blast at an Islamic seminary in northwestern Pakistan known as a historic training ground for the Afghan Taliban killed six worshippers during Friday prayers, police said yesterday.

Several others were wounded including the head of the religious school, Maulana Hamid-ul-Haq, son of the late Maulana Sami-ul-Haq, considered the father of the Taliban. Regional police officer Najeebur Rahman said Haq was in critical condition.

Tucked away in a Pakistani town off the main motorway to the Afghan border, Darul Uloom Haqqania university was the launch pad for the Taliban movement in the 1990s and is still often described as an incubator for radical Islamists.

IMPACT OF US AID CUTS

Millions of children already affected: UN

AFP, Geneva

The UN children's agency Unicef said yesterday that it was studying the impact of drastic US aid cuts, with millions of children already affected by the funding freeze imposed last month.

US President Donald Trump, on his first day back in office last month, demanded a 90-day freeze on all US foreign aid to give his administration time to review overseas spending, with an eye to gutting programmes not aligned with his "America First" agenda.

The State Department announced Wednesday that multi-year aid contracts were being slashed by 92 percent, in a bid to make around $60 billion in savings in development and overseas

"We have received termination notices for Unicef grants, and they include humanitarian as well as development programming," the agency's spokesman James Elder said at a press conference in Geneva.

half the countries that we work.

"Without urgent action, without funding, more children are going to suffer malnutrition. Fewer will have access to education, and preventable illnesses will claim more lives," he said.

"So it's very clear that reduction in any funding during these exceedingly difficult times for children is putting child lives at risk at a time when they need support more than ever."

The US has, until now, been by far the world's largest donor of humanitarian and development aid.

Geetanjali Narayan, Unicef's representative in Haiti, told the briefing that US aid was crucial to children's lives in the poorest country in the Caribbean.

World agrees nature funding plan at UN talks

AFP, Rome

Nations cheered a last-gasp deal to map out funding to protect nature Thursday, breaking a deadlock at UN talks seen as a test for international cooperation in the face of geopolitical tensions.

Rich and developing countries hammered out a delicate compromise on raising and delivering the billions of dollars needed to protect species.

Delegates stood and clapped in an emotionally charged final meeting that saw key decisions adopted in the last day of negotiations at the UN's Food and Agriculture Organization headquarters in Rome.

Militia fighters surrender looted weapons in Manipur

AFP, New Delhi

Militia fighters from rival ethnic groups in India's conflict-torn Manipur have surrendered scores of guns and other gear looted from security forces, police said yesterday, days after the state was placed under New Delhi's direct rule.

The Manipur police, in a series of posts on X yesterday, shared photos of hand grenades, pistols, rifles, helmets, bulletproof jackets and ammunition surrendered by ethnic militias from across the state.

At least 307 weapons were handed over in the last week, police said in a statement.

The "request for the surrender of looted and illegally held weapons and ammunition has yielded a positive response", it added.

"Such voluntary surrender of weapons will significantly help in restoring peace, communal harmony and lawfulness in the state of Manipur."

Those who gave up weapons would not be criminally charged, police said.

Manipur has been split along ethnic lines since the outbreak of deadly violence between the predominantly Hindu Meitei majority and the mainly Christian Kuki community in May 2023.

At least 260 people have been killed and tens of thousands have fled their homes in the northeastern state along India's border with war-torn Myanmar.

The state's chief minister, N Biren Singh, from Prime Minister Narendra Modi's Hindu nationalist Bharatiya Janata Party, resigned this month after criticism that his government had not done enough to quell the violence.

UYGHUR DEPORTATIONS

US issues Thailand security alert

AFP, Bangkok

The United States issued a security alert to its citizens in Thailand yesterday, warning of the possible risk of reprisal attacks after the kingdom deported dozens of Uyghurs to China.

The Thai government has suffered intense criticism from around the world for its decision to hand over at least 40 Uyghurs, who were flown by special plane to China's northwestern Xinjiang region on Thursday.

Beijing is accused of committing human rights abuses in Xinjiang, including the incarceration of around one million Uyghurs and other Muslim minorities. It denies the allegations.

LATEST TARIFF THREAT

China accuses US of fentanyl 'blackmail'

REUTERS, Beijing

Beijing yesterday accused the United States of exerting "tariff pressure and blackmail" after President Donald Trump's latest threat to slap an extra duty of 10 percent on imports from China, citing a continued flow of fentanyl into the country.

The fresh China tariffs, in addition to a tariff of 10 percent levied on February 4, coincide with Wednesday's start of China's annual parliamentary meet.

Washington had "used the fentanyl issue to insist on tariff pressure and blackmail," foreign ministry spokesperson Lin Jian told a daily briefing.

"It has created a serious impact, pressure, coercion and threat to the dialogue and cooperation between the two sides in the field of drug control," Lin said of the tariffs, warning that they would backfire.

"Remarkable results have been achieved," he added, from China's anti-drug cooperation with the United States, saying China was the world's first country to officially control fentanyl-like substances.
