

Modi to visit China for first time in 7 years

India's security chief visits Moscow

REUTERS, New Delhi

Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi will visit China for the first time in over seven years, a government source said yesterday, in a further sign of a diplomatic thaw with Beijing as tensions with the United States rise.

Modi will go to China for a summit of the multilateral Shanghai Cooperation Organisation that begins on August 31, the government source, with direct knowledge of the matter, told Reuters. India's foreign ministry did not immediately respond to a request for comment.

His trip will come at a time when India's relationship with the US faces its most serious crisis in years after President Donald Trump imposed the highest tariffs among Asian peers on goods imported from India, and has threatened an unspecified further penalty for New Delhi's purchases of Russian oil.

Modi's visit to the Chinese city of Tianjin for the summit of SCO will be his first since June 2018. Subsequently, Sino-Indian ties deteriorated sharply after a military clash along their disputed Himalayan border in 2020.

Meanwhile, India's National Security Adviser Ajit Doval is in Russia on a scheduled visit and is expected to discuss India's purchases of Russian oil in the wake of Trump's pressure on India to stop buying Russian crude, according to another government source.

US IMPORTS OF RUSSIAN CHEMICALS, FERTILISERS

‘Don’t know anything about it’: Trump

THE HINDU ONLINE

US President Donald Trump on Tuesday stated that he had no knowledge that the United States imports Russian Chemicals and fertilisers. The rebuttal came after India claimed that US continues to import from Russia uranium hexafluoride for its nuclear industry, fertilisers, as well as chemicals.

When asked by the ANI about US imports of Russian chemicals and fertilisers during a press conference at the White House, Trump said, “I don’t know anything about it. We will have to check.” ANI has reached out to the President’s press team and awaits for a response.

The comment came a day after Trump announced that the US would “substantially raise” tariffs on India over its purchase of Russian oil.

“India is not only buying massive amounts of Russian Oil, they are then, for much of the oil purchased, selling it on the open market for big profits. They don’t care how many people in Ukraine are being killed by the Russian War Machine. Because of this, I will be substantially raising the Tariff paid by India to the U.S.A. Thank you for your attention to this matter!!!” Trump had said in a post on Truth Social on Monday.

Trump’s statement was rejected by India, with external affairs ministry calling the targeting of India “unjustified and unreasonable.”

There is no military solution to the conflict in Gaza or the broader Israeli-Palestinian conflict.

Putin-Witkoff talks on Ukraine ‘constructive’

Says Kremlin ahead of US sanctions deadline

REUTERS, Moscow

Talks between Russian President Vladimir Putin and US special envoy Steve Witkoff were “useful and constructive,” Kremlin foreign policy aide Yuri Ushakov said yesterday.

Witkoff held around three hours of talks with Putin in the Kremlin, two days before the expiry of a deadline set by President Donald Trump for Russia to agree to peace in Ukraine or face new sanctions.

Ushakov told Russian news outlet Zvezda that the two sides discussed the conflict in Ukraine and the potential for improving US-Russia relations. He said Moscow had received certain “signals” from Trump and had sent messages in return.

Trump, increasingly frustrated with Putin over the lack of progress towards Ukraine peace, has threatened to impose heavy tariffs on countries that buy Russian exports.

Iran executes man convicted of spying for Israel

AFP, Tehran

Iranian authorities yesterday executed a man convicted of spying for Israel by passing on information about a nuclear scientist killed during the 12-day war with Israel in June, the judiciary said.

“Roosbeh Vadi... was executed following judicial proceedings and confirmation of his sentence by the Supreme Court,” the judiciary’s Mizan Online website said, adding that the man had leaked information about a “nuclear scientist who was assassinated during the Zionist regime’s recent aggression.” The execution was carried out by hanging, it added.

BORDER CLASHES Cambodian workers flock home from Thailand

AFP, Phnom Penh

Hundreds of thousands of Cambodian migrant workers have returned from Thailand following deadly border clashes between the two neighbours, a labour ministry official told AFP yesterday.

Cambodia and Thailand agreed on a ceasefire starting from Tuesday last week after five days of clashes killed at least 43 people on both sides when a long-standing dispute over contested border temples boiled over into fighting on their 800-kilometre (500-mile) boundary.

Huge numbers of returning workers and their families streamed through the Ban Laem-Daung border post between Thailand's eastern Chanthaburi province and Battambang in Cambodia yesterday.

Most were laden with belongings – suitcases, backpacks, heavy bags, blankets and electric fans – as they trudged on foot through the crossing.

Cambodia's labour ministry spokesman Sun Mesa said more than 750,000 Cambodians, including children, had returned since clashes broke out on July 24.

"They feel unsafe and scared in Thailand," he said, adding that there were reports that Cambodian migrants were attacked by "gangsters".

There was no separate confirmation of the total of 750,000. A Thai immigration officer told AFP the official figure was "confidential" but said "there are many crossing back".

Thai media reports quoted the head of the Thai-Cambodia Border Trade and Tourism Association of Chanthaburi as saying more than 200,000 Cambodians had crossed back.

The group said on its Facebook page that about 20,000 crossed on Tuesday and about 30,000 were expected to cross yesterday.

A total of some 1.2 million Cambodian migrants have been living and working in Thailand, Sun Mesa said.

Cambodia's defence ministry spokeswoman Maly Socheata said yesterday the situation remained calm along the Thai border and "our forces are on high alert".
