and the fall of the Sheikh Hasina regime.

After facing widespread public wrath for their controversial role and attacks on unarmed students and people, many police stations and officers came under attack.

An officer-in-charge of a DMP police station said, “We try to take details whenever we receive a call through 999. But if the incident seems related to security risks or possible mob violence, sometimes officers are reluctant to respond. In those cases, we try to deploy at least two patrol teams.”

A sub-inspector from Dhaka district police added, “In Dhaka city, it is often easier to respond. But in remote areas with no people nearby, it becomes very difficult due to security concerns.”

One such case was reported in Narsingdi’s Shhipur area.

On July 12 this year, Rina Begum and two of her relatives were attacked by a neighbour following an altercation. They immediately called 999, but no police responded. The three were later admitted to Narsingdi Sadar Hospital with multiple stab injuries to the head and back. The victims claimed that even when they went to the police station bleeding from their injuries, they received no assistance.

There have also been allegations that police demanded money to respond to emergency calls or attempted to handle cases over the phone instead of in person.

On July 18, Sumiya Bakht repeatedly called 999 seeking help to rescue her daughter, Tabassum Islam Syma, who was allegedly confined by a relative in Saghata upazila of Gaibandha. No help arrived for three hours.

A six-member police team eventually responded but allegedly demanded payment and took Tk 2,000. Sumiya claimed she paid the money through a middleman.

However, Assistant Sub-Inspector Mohosin Ali Sarkar, who was part of the six-member team, denied taking any money from Sumiya.

they had termed “not fully fair”, and warned that the same mistakes must not be repeated.

The teachers demanded that polling booths be increased in proportion to voter numbers and voting hours extended until 5:00pm.

They stressed that a clear and realistic plan for booth management and voting time allocation be communicated to students in advance.

In the counting process, they called for transparent measures, including daily meetings with representatives of all contesting panels.

The network also urged transparent enforcement of the electoral code of conduct, with defined penalties for violations.

They demanded non-discriminatory deployment of teachers, officers, and staffers, as well as steps to curb cyberbullying and online threats.

Citing a recent social media post in which a DU student allegedly threatened gang rape against a female candidate, they pressed for exemplary punishment.

Other recommendations included transport support for non-residential students on voting day, stability in academic schedules, discipline among journalists and social media content creators covering the polls, and stakeholder involvement before last-minute decisions.

The teachers’ network said they would continue their independent observation of the election, as they did in 2019.

Govt mulls ICT-3

Asif Nazrul added, “We are determined to ensure justice for all kinds of crimes, including murder, enforced disappearance, and torture that occurred under the previous government. Our judges, prosecution, and investigation teams are working with utmost dedication.”

Referring to the July uprising, the adviser said, “More than 1,000 students and civilians were killed, and thousands more were left with permanent disabilities. The trials for these grave crimes against humanity are not just essential; they are inevitable. We have remained firm in our efforts from the beginning and are satisfied with the current pace of the trial.”

During the inspection of the ICT-2 main building, Asif Nazrul was accompanied by Housing, Public Works and Industries Adviser Adilur Rahman Khan.

Attorney General Md Asaduzzaman, ICT Chief Prosecutor Mohammad Tajul Islam and Prosecutor Gazi MH Tamim were also present.

Asif Nazrul’s comments on the possibility of forming ICT-3 came after Tajul on Saturday said they were being forced to rush the trials of crimes against humanity committed during the July uprising, as well as enforced disappearances perpetrated under the Awami League regime.

And this is happening amid fears that the next government may not continue the trials, he added, speaking at an event marking the Day for the Victims of Enforced Disappearances.

Three members of a family were killed as a truck hit their motorcycle in Pabna’s Faridpur upazila yesterday.

Sohel Rana, 30; his wife Aulia Khatun, 25; and their daughter Sumaiya Khatun, 7, were from Chatmohar.

The incident took place as they were returning home around 10:00am, said Hasnat Zaman, OC of Faridpur Police Station.

When they reached Chokhokia, a truck hit their bike, leaving Aulia and Sumaiya dead on the spot and Soheli injured.

“We recovered the bodies and took Soheli to a hospital. He succumbed to his injuries around noon,” said OC Hasnat.

Adabor Police Station Officer-in-Charge SM Jakaria said the arrests were made after a constable was stabbed during a police operation.

The operation followed a call to the national emergency helpline 999 earlier that night around 10:30pm.

During that call, police were informed that a youth had been confined in the Shyamoli Housing area, OC Jakaria said.

When a four-member police team went to the spot, they were attacked by unidentified assailants, who stabbed constable Al-Amin and vandalised a police vehicle, he added.

Following the attack, police launched a sweeping raid in the area, detaining 102 people on suspicion.

Of them, 15 were sentenced to 10–15 days in jail by a mobile court yesterday, while the rest were released after signing bonds.

“Innocent individuals were released after giving bonds. Only 15 people – found to be involved in the incident – were sentenced,” said OC Jakaria.

Among those sentenced were Alamgir and Habibur.

“My husband has typhoid. I went to the police station with his medicine and food, but there were too many people and I couldn’t even speak to the officers. Just now I learned he has been sent to Keraniganj,” said Alamgir’s wife Julefa yesterday evening.

Breaking into tears, she added, “He is an innocent man. They dragged him out of bed in the middle of the night and sent him to jail. If he cannot work for 15 days, how will our family survive?”

Talking to families of the detainees yesterday, it emerged that most of those arrested were day labourers and working-class men.

Locals alleged that the assailants were outsiders who fled the area immediately after the attack. “The real perpetrators have not been arrested,” said one resident.

The ACC lodged six separate cases, including the three ones, between January 12 and 14 over alleged irregularities in the allocation of plots under the Purbachal New Town project.

It accused Hasina of colluding with senior Rajuk officials to unlawfully secure six 10-katha plots in Sector 27’s diplomatic zone for herself, Joy, Putul, Sheikh Rehana, her children Radwan Mujib Siddiq Bobby and Azmina Siddiq, despite their ineligibility.

she had been waiting at the station for five hours to catch the Jamalpur Commuter.

Passengers urged the authorities to resolve the crisis to ease the suffering of thousands who travel daily between Dhaka, Mymensingh, Netrakona and Jamalpur.

Mahmud Hasan Dipu, one of the student leaders, said they suspended the blockade around 5:20pm.

BAU Proctor Prof Abdul Alim said a meeting between the students and university authorities were held last night to settle the matter.

At the meeting, presided over by Prof Md Shahidul Haque, BAU student affairs adviser, a three-member probe body was formed to investigate the attack on the students.

Besides, a decision was taken that the order to vacate the halls will be withdrawn through a syndicate meeting today.

Following the decision, the students postponed their protest programmes for today, said Mahmud Hasan Dipu.
