

'IT'S AWKWARD AND BEWILDERING':

Runa Khan on online misuse of her videos

SHARMIN JOYA

While the misuse of intellectual property and videos to illegally promote products is not new on social media, Runa Khan is perhaps the most targeted victim, due to her inspiring weight-loss journey. Fraudulent products are now being marketed on Facebook, where the actress is seen claiming that said product is behind her weight loss. Of course, these videos have been doctored completely.

"I've noticed for a long time that many fake pages are using my photos and video interviews, claiming I lost weight by using their products," said Runa. "But what can I even say to them? I've shared my real journey so many times—it's been more than four years now. And when I see my own colleagues involved in such activities, using these products, or even going through surgeries, I honestly have nothing more to say."

She also shared that despite receiving several tempting monetary offers, she had previously turned them all down. "I've always been firmly against using or promoting slimming products, or undergoing aesthetic or weight-loss surgeries. I've spoken out about this time and again, and I stand by it."

In 2022, during an interview with this reporter, the actress opened up about her weight-loss journey in a feature titled "Runa Khan Reborn".

"After that interview, I was approached by a reputable newspaper for another story that focused solely on my weight loss journey—and at that time, I wanted to share it with a happy heart!" she recalled. "Soon after, I received many offers for fashion modelling. However, I got frustrated because I noticed that newspapers kept mentioning my weight loss journey repeatedly—as if my popularity came only after I lost weight!"

Two of Runa's films, shot in 2006 (Balughori) and 2008 (Unaditya), were recently announced for release. "These films were shot nearly 2 decades ago, and I was told that the hard copy of both of the films was stolen. Initially, when doing these films, as an artiste, I was informed that they were being made for festivals, and Balughori had its international premiere at the Second South Asian Film Festival in 2007. I am glad that the audience can finally watch them!"

Film on Manna Dey's 'Coffee House' set to roll in October

A feature film inspired by Manna Dey's iconic song Coffee House will begin shooting on October 7 across North Bengal and Kolkata.

Produced by Suan Silver Screen, the film reunites Roopa Ganguly and Dolon Roy on screen, with Ganguly portraying Sujata and Roy playing the older Rama.

The story revisits the six friends immortalized in the song—Sujata, Rama, Nikhilesh, D'Souza, Amal, and Moidul—through the eyes of Aheri, Sujata's Britain-returned granddaughter, who uncovers a diary and letters that unravel memories and mysteries of love, loss and destiny.

The cast also includes Priyanka Bhattacharjee, Shubashish Ghosh, Soumya Mukherjee, and Anuradha Mukherjee. Arijit Singh will perform a new version of Coffee House, ensuring the film resonates with nostalgia and cultural legacy.

Raihan Rafi and Alimuzzaman to receive Fazlul Haque Memorial Award

Filmmaker Raihan Rafi and veteran journalist Alimuzzaman will be honoured with the Fazlul Haque Memorial Award this year, organisers announced.

The award, presented annually in memory of pioneering film journalist Fazlul Haque, will be conferred on October 26, marking his death anniversary.

Fazlul Haque, editor of Bangladesh's first cinema magazine, Cinema and director of the children's film President, is widely regarded as the father of Bangladeshi film journalism. Introduced in 2004 by author Rabeya Khatun, the award recognises outstanding contributions in filmmaking and film journalism, accompanied by a cash prize, certificate, and crest.

This year, Rafi is recognised for engaging younger audiences through cinema, while Alimuzzaman is honoured for his decades-long journalistic contributions.

CANVAS OF TRANQUILITY

WHAT'S THE HAPS?

'The Human Voice'

Jean Cocteau's The Human Voice, first staged in 1930, returns as a powerful one-act monodrama. Performed by a single actor, the play captures a woman's final, desperate phone call with her lover, exposing the raw psychology of heartbreak and the haunting quality of technology as solace and torment.

Date: Thursday-Saturday| October 9-11, 2025

Time: 7 pm onwards

Venue: Alliance Française de Dhaka
