

Six killed in road crashes in 3 districts

STAR REPORT

Six people were killed in road accidents in Sirajganj, Chuadanga, Chattogram yesterday and the day before.

In Sirajganj, three people, including two children, were killed as a human haulier rammied into a battery-run auto-rickshaw in Ulipur Bridge area of Tarash upazila yesterday, said Tarash Police Station Officer-in-Charge Md Ziaur Rahman.

The deceased are Md Jani, 12, and his nine-month-old sister Tubba, from Dakshinpara area; and the auto-rickshaw driver, Md Haiptot Ali, 45, from Kohit village of the upazila.

The OC said five people were injured when the human haulier crashed into the auto-rickshaw. Three of them died while being taken to Tarash Upazila Health Complex, while the remaining two are undergoing treatment there.

In Chuadanga, a five-year-old boy was killed after being hit by a battery-run easy bike while crossing a road in Bot-tola area under Alamdanga upazila yesterday. The deceased, Rahen Hossain, son of Shamim, was from Rowakuli village in the upazila, said Alamdanga Police Station OC Masudur Rahman.

Police later detained the easy bike driver.

In Chattogram, a biker and his pillion rider died on the spot after their motorcycle overturned on the Toll Road on Wednesday night.

The deceased are Shahriar Aziz Onik, 26, and Md Sohan, 26, said Halishahar Police Station OC Zakir Hossain. The OC also said the motorcycle overturned due to speeding.

Death anniv of Tawhidul Anwar today

CITY DESK

Today marks the 25th death anniversary of Prof. Mohammad Tawhidul Anwar, who served as the director general of the Press Institute of Bangladesh and as a professor of Mass Communication and Journalism at Dhaka University.

On the occasion, his family has requested his relatives, friends, colleagues, and students to join them in offering prayers in his memory, said a press release.

Native fish varieties disappearing fast

Of 108 species once abundant, only 30-35 remain in Rangpur region

S DILIP ROY, Lalmonirhat

Once, the rivers, canals, and wetlands across the five districts of the Rangpur region — Kurigram, Lalmonirhat, Rangpur, Gaibandha, and Nilphamari — were a treasure trove of indigenous fish varieties.

At least 108 native fish species were once abundant in the region's waterbodies. Most of those species have disappeared over the past two decades, with only around 30-35 still surviving amid dwindling fish populations, according to the Department of Fisheries.

"The availability of indigenous fish varieties dropped to only 12-15 percent compared to the past," said Sanjida Yasmin, fisheries extension officer in Lalmonirhat.

She said waterbodies are drying up fast due to climate change, disrupting the habitat and breeding of fish species. Pollution from chemical fertilisers and pesticides has worsened the crisis. The use of illegal nets results in the harvest of both brood fish and fry, while unplanned dams block migration routes. Overfishing and hybrid aquaculture have further accelerated the decline.

"If we fail to act, even the remaining species may disappear completely within the next decade," she warned.

Ahsan Kabir Bulu, an agricultural entrepreneur from Lalmonirhat Sadar, said local wetlands, which once supplied fish year-round, now remain dry most of the time. "Earlier I harvested 35-40 maunds of fish annually, but now only 3-4 maunds," he said.

REASONS
Climate change
Pollution from fertilisers, pesticides
Use of illegal nets
Unplanned embankments
Overfishing, hybrid aquaculture

Jatin Chandra Das, 70, a fisherman from Kurigram's Rajarhat upazila, recalled that local varieties like catfish, carps, and snakeheads were once abundant. "Now they are rare luxuries. Prices have soared from Tk 200-400 to Tk 600-1,500 per kg, beyond the reach of ordinary people," he said.

Commercial farming has also contributed to the disappearance of traditional varieties. Fisherman Nirmol Chandra Das of Daspara village in Rangpur's Gangachara said most natural waterbodies are being leased by the government for commercial cultivation of fish hybrids.

"Natural habitats are disappearing, and with them native fish species," he said.

"For generations, our food, livelihoods, and even folk songs revolved around indigenous fish. What was once daily food for the poor is now an expensive delicacy for the wealthy," said Anil Chandra Das, 60, president of Rangpur Fishermen's Association.

Muktadir Khan, district fisheries officer of Kurigram, said, "Coordinated measures are needed to conserve wetlands, ban illegal nets, raise awareness, and establish hatcheries for fry of indigenous varieties."

"If we fail to act urgently, future generations may only know about local fish varieties through folklore, but won't have them on their plates," he added.

Man stabbed to death in Jahore

UNB, Jahore

A 28-year-old man was stabbed to death allegedly by his rivals over previous enmity at Dakatia village in Jahore Sadar upazila yesterday.

The deceased is Chanchal Gazi, son of Madhu Gazi of the village.

Quoting locals, Kotwali Model Police Station OC Abul Hasnat said Chanchal and his father Madhu Gazi had an enmity with their neighbour Rabiul.

Chanchal locked into an altercation with Rabiul, Billal and two others around 10:45am.

At one stage, Rabiul stabbed Chanchal with a sharp weapon, leaving him dead on the spot.

Rabiul and Madhu were also injured during the attack. They were taken to the hospital.

On information, police went to the spot and brought the situation under control.

Man killed, 3 hurt in attack over 'rickshaw theft'

OUR CORRESPONDENT, Benapole

A man was hacked to death and three of his family members were critically injured after a local gang attacked them allegedly over theft of a battery-run rickshaw in Jashore's Sadar upazila yesterday.

The victim, 34-year-old Chanchal Mahmud, was from Dakatia village. His father Madhu Gazi, mother Hasina Begum, and younger brother Tuhin were also injured in the attack.

Police and locals said the assault was allegedly led by Rabiul Islam, known in the area as the leader of a group of thieves. Acting on his orders, the gang stormed Madhu Gazi's house around 10:00am and attacked the family with sharp weapons.

Neighbours took the victims to Jashore 250 Bed General Hospital, where doctors declared Chanchal dead upon arrival. His father remains in critical condition, according to doctors.

Police later arrested three suspects — Rabiul, 35, Billal Hossain, 40, and Munna Hossain, 25.

Locals said Chanchal's battery-run rickshaw had been stolen recently. When his family suspected Rabiul's gang and sought mediation to get it back, the group became enraged and allegedly carried out the attack.

Inspector (Operation) of Jashore Kotwali Police Station Momin Uddin said, "We have arrested three suspects, including the group leader Rabiul Islam. Efforts are underway to arrest others involved."

Key Cumilla road in ruins, thousands suffer daily

KHALID BIN NAZRUL, Cumilla

The Major Abdul Gani Road in Cumilla, which connects Cumilla city and Brahmanpara upazila, has become largely unfit for travel, causing immense suffering for nearly 50,000 people who use the road for their daily commute.

The 21km road has around 13km between Cumilla and Burichang in a dilapidated condition, with the surface worn off after recent floods, leaving hundreds of potholes.

Locals said floodwaters damaged the road severely after the Gomti river embankments collapsed recently. With no steps taken to repair it, the condition has continued to deteriorate over time.

"The journey between Brahmanpara and Cumilla used to take only around 30 minutes when the road was in good shape. Now it takes more than one and a half hours. Transport fares have soared as drivers often avoid the road due to the risks and heavy congestion," said Zahirul Haque Babu, a member of Burichang Press Club.

"The road is in terrible shape; vehicles often break down, and the muddy, waterlogged areas have become highly accident-prone," said Sharif, a CNG-run auto-rickshaw driver.

Contacted, Khondoker Golam Mostafa, executive engineer of the Roads and Highways Department in Cumilla, said, "Repair work on the 13km stretch of the road from Cumilla to Burichang has already begun. We will soon start work on the Brahmanpara portion through a new project."

Son kills parents over financial dispute in M'singh

UNB, Mymensingh

A man in Mymensingh's Trishal upazila allegedly killed his parents and buried them inside their home, reportedly over a financial dispute, police said yesterday.

The victims are Mohammad Ali, 70, and Ranwara Begum, 60.

Accused Riyad Hasan Raju, 30, has been detained, said ASP Md Abdullah Al Mamun.

Police said Raju on Wednesday strangled his mother during the day and killed his father in the evening with an axe when he returned home. He then buried both bodies inside the house.

Raju informed his sisters that their parents were missing. However, his sister Zarina Khatun became suspicious after noticing fresh soil and bloodstains on the floor and informed neighbours.

They caught Raju and informed the police, who recovered the bodies and took Raju into custody.

Trishal Police Station OC Mansur Ahmed said Raju confessed during preliminary interrogation. Raju said he had been unemployed and had asked his parents for money to start a business. After they refused, he killed them out of anger.

The OC said the bodies have been sent to Mymensingh Medical College Hospital for autopsy.
